PRESIDENT NAMES ILLINOISAN

FOR LISBON POST.

[Associated Press Night Report.]

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Henry S.

Boutell, Representative of Illinois, was nominated today by President Taft

to be United States Minister to Portugal.

Mr. Boutell was defeated for re-nomination at the last primary election.

The appointment of a new minister to Portugal suggested the inquiry at the State Department today, whether

Mr. Boutell's credentials would be accorded to the provisional government of that country and whether

this would constitute recognition by the United States of the republican administration.

It was explained, however, that though the new minister would be received by the provisional government, the attitude of the State Department was that he was merely continuing

in the same relationship to the provisional government as the minister whom he succeeded, the latter, of course, being originally accredited to the monarchical government.

The appointment yesterday, of Henry S.

Boutell of Illinois by President Taft

as United States Minister to Portugal,

brought out the fact that Henry T.

Gage had placed his resignation in the hands of Secretary of State Knox

at the time of his return to Los Angeles. The resignation was to become effective when the President appointed a successor.

Mr. Gage stated yesterday, that owing to the ill health of Mrs. Gage, he had decided to return to Los Angeles to live and that he had resigned when he arrived back in Washington out at the request of the Department of State

had refrained from making it public.

An interesting point has arisen by the appointment of Mr. Boutell, as Secretary of United States government is officially recognizing the new republic of Portugal a thing which the government has very carefully refrained from doing heretofore.

HOUSE APPROVES CONSTITUTION.

Mexico Advances Toward Statehood.

President May Turn Down Arizona's Freak.

James Thinks Botch Should Go Through.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The House today gave its formal approval to the Constitution of New Mexico, making that Territory another step toward statehood. The Constitution of Arizona has not reached Washington, and cannot be acted on until the next session of Congress.
 The debate the statement was free-voiced that President Taft might not approve the Arizona Constitution because of the recall provision in reference to the Judiciary.
 Representative James of Kentucky called attention to the fact that the Constitution of New Mexico gave no right of appeal to the Supreme Court, and that it is a fairly conducted election, if it is republican in form, and that under it neither Congress nor the President would have right to disapprove the Arizona Constitution.

BUSINESS IS GOOD.

TREASURY BALANCE INCREASES.
 ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.
 WASHINGTON, March 1.—February improved as compared with the month of January. There was a surplus of $9 for the month on all accounts, against a deficiency of $2,000,000 in January. The total deficit for the year ended December 31, 1910, was $1,000,000, as compared with $45,000,000 at a corresponding time a year ago. The balance in the general fund increased slightly to $45,000,000, but the balance dropped off about $1,000,000, and the month closed with it. The passage of the Panama Canal bond bill in Congress today, which will allow the treasury to issue $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 in 5 per cent. Panama bonds with the privilege of national bank circulation, opens the way for Secretary Veagh to replenish the cash drawer of the treasury. It is generally believed that the issue of $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 will be made in the near future.

NAVAL BILL IN SENATE.

Feature Barring Steel Trust Is Retained—Measure Increased Over House Appropriation.
 ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.
 WASHINGTON, March 1.—The naval appropriation bill was reported to the Senate today. The naval programme, as amended, includes two first-class battleships, a submarine tender and two gunboats. The bill appropriates $124,400,538, an increase of $1,190,790 over the amount fixed by the House.
 Under an amendment adopted today the eight-hour law will apply only to the construction of the battleships. An unsuccessful effort was made to have it extend to the entire construction programme.
 The Senate retained the provision of the House bill declaring that no parts of the appropriation for the building of battleships be paid to any concern which operates as a combination in restraint of trade. This provision is directed at the steel trust.
 Lawyers in the Senate say it will be ineffective as the Navy Department cannot discriminate against any concern until the courts have decided what concerns are a part of the so-called steel trust.

PROSPECTIVE.

MR. TAFT MAY VETO PENSION BILL ON GROUNDS OF EXTRAVAGANCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
 WASHINGTON, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the middle of the Senate's legislative jumble is the Sulloway Pension Bill, which passed the House of Representatives by a big majority and is now struggling for its life in the upper house under the care of Senator Nathan B. Scott of West Virginia.
 If this bill passes, will President Taft veto it? Indications have come from the White House that this measure, which increases the pension payments of the government by about $50,000,000 a year, may receive the veto.
 MR. TAFT INQUIRES.
 The President has been told that all the old soldiers in the country are in favor of the bill and that he will lose prestige and votes if he interposes his objection, but the President does not believe that he is going to lose anything if he vetoes the bill on the ground that it is unnecessary extravagance and not warranted by conditions of suffering in the veterans' ranks.
 This measure, named for its sponsor, Representative Cyrus Sulloway of New MILITIA BILL PASSES.

PROVIDES FOR INCREASED PAY.
 ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.
 WASHINGTON, March 1.—The Steierson Militia Pay Bill was passed by the House today. 159 to 124. It provides that militia officers in the various States shall receive from 5 to 20 per cent. of the pay of officers in the same grade in the regular army. The pay of privates is fixed at 25 per cent. of the regular army scale. One of the conditions imposed upon any one accepting pay under the proposed act, is an agreement to render military service to the United States, "during any period for which he may be called into such service," not to exceed two years. The bill has not been acted upon by the Senate.

CHANCE FOR MARE ISLAND.

Naval Appropriations Bill Carries Amendment Providing for Construction of Collier in California.
 [BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
 WASHINGTON, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mare Island is to have another chance to build a collier for the Navy if the Naval Appropriation Bill passes as it reached the Senate today.
 Senator Perkins and Representative Knowland have been trying for three years to have built at the Mare Island navy if the Naval Appropriation Bill Congress has made appropriation.
 When the first colliers were provided for the merchant ship yards made a very low bid, either because business was dull or because they wished to keep business away from the government plants, if not for both reasons. In fact they offered to build colliers for about $260,000 when Mare Island could not build one for less than $1,500,000, so

Mare Island lost the collier.
 Perkins and Knowland intended it should build. Ever since that time they have been trying to have Congress increase the limit of cost so that one collier can be built in California. When the present naval bill was before the House, Knowland secured consent that the "indirect" or overhead charges should not be considered by Mare Island in preparing its bid. On consultation with the Naval Department, however, it was decided that it would be better to disregard all previous attempted legislation on the subject of this collier for fear of some technicality, so Senator Perkins caused to be inserted in the bill reported today an amendment fixing the limit of cost of a collier to be built at a Pacific Coast navy yard at $1,500,000.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

Editors Protest Postal Increase.
 WASHINGTON, March 1.—Editors representing advertising and publishing interests in the Middle and Far West, called on President Taft today to urge a careful investigation of the question of the increase in magazine postal rates before action is taken. They told the President they thought an investigation committee should be appointed.

To Sell Burnt Timber.
 WASHINGTON, March 1.—The Senate bill for the sale of burnt timber on public lands, on motion of Representative Hamer of Idaho, was passed by the House today. The bill authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to sell timber killed or seriously damaged by forest fires prior to December 1, 1910. It is said unless the damaged timber was soon made use of, it would go to waste.

TO PASS ON WATER CASE.

Ballinger Notifies Flint Los Angeles Proposal Will Be Reviewed Shortly.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
 WASHINGTON, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As a result of an application made to the Secretary of the Interior by City Attorney Matthews and Senator Flint to "expedite the case," promise is made that there will be an early decision on the application by Los Angeles to purchase certain lands in the Owens River Valley desired in connection with the city's water supply system.
 Secretary Ballinger wrote today to Senator Flint stating that the applications of the city, under the act of Congress of June 30, 1906, were now pending in the General Land Office, together with the record of the testimony taken at the Land Office at Independence. The Secretary promised that this would all be duly considered and that a decision would be rendered thereon at an

The Land That Brings Results

You certainly want land that brings results—the real, tangible, cash results that mean a competency when you are ready to stop working. I offer it to you in my Fresno Valley Lands. My handsome exhibit of products demonstrates. Come in and see this—proof positive of what these lands will do. Then get my booklet of facts, and arrange to go on one of my Free Excursions. That will give you ample opportunity to prove things up for yourself.

Rich, Deep Soil—Abundant Cheap Water—Town Advantages

Could you ask for a more perfect combination than this—mellow, productive soil—cheap ditch and pump water in abundance—located close to the stations of two competing railways, adjoining good town with schools, stores, telephones, free mail delivery, etc. My Fresno Valley Lands have these advantages, and I ask you "How can a common-sense, industrious farmer fail to make money here?" You cannot fail, because you can have some crop coming to maturity almost every month in the year. Among the great successes are oranges, peaches, apricots, figs, walnuts, alfalfa, corn, vegetables and berries. Dairying is a money-maker here, and

HIGH TIME AT ZION CITY.

Voliva's Supporters Have Jubilee When Estate of Late Prophet Is Transferred to Him.
 [BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
 WAUKEGAN (Ill.) March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When the news was received at Zion City today that W. G. Voliva had been transferred the estate left by John Alexander Dowie and was in reality the temporal overlord at last, a wild jubilee broke forth among his followers.
 The prayer bell was rung, a band paraded the streets, a Zion whistle shrieked the news, flags were flaunted from every eminence and the hall. Great throngs—gathered about Zion Home, the hotel owned by Voliva. Independents, or anti-Volvians, took the situation soberly and trouble was nearly precipitated when the police were called today, to take effect April 1. The point at issue involved the right of the Governor General to supervise the affairs of the auditor's office.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

LAN BEAUTIES FOR THE SHOW.

own to Be Well Represented at Exposition.

These Organizations Take Matter in Hand.

Local Representation to Be Notable Feature.

PASADENA, March 2.—Pasadena a vicinity will be well represented at the Pacific Land and Produce Exposition in Los Angeles this month. This was decided on at a joint meeting of the directors of the Pasadena Realty board, the Advertising Committee of the Board of Trade and a delegation from the Pasadena Gardeners' Association held last night in the Board of Trade rooms.

Several subcommittees were appointed to work out the details of the exhibit which will represent the Crown City. A floor space ten by twenty feet will be reserved and this will be filled with everything which goes to make a Crown City a beautiful one to live in. Much of the exhibit will be taken up with various pictures of homes, resorts, parks and scenic grounds. The Pasadena Gardeners' Association will supply a number of first-class plants and a number of first-class show all about their native city.

BRIDGE COMMITTEE. A conference was held in the Board of Trade rooms yesterday afternoon between the Board of Trade Bridge Committee and Mayor E. C. Ricketts regarding the proposed Arroyo Seco bridge. The City Engineer finished staking out the route of the bridge, which shows just how high ground will be taken from C. B. Smith, who owns the land over which the bridge will run, as well as the approaches at both ends. Mayor Ricketts stated positively that the city will not call on bondholders for money for purchasing the rights of way for the bridge or approaches, but for half of the cost of the bridge. A County Supervisor having agreed to stand the other half.

NEW OPERAHOUSE OPENED. Clune's Pasadena Theater was really opened last night with an interesting bill to a crowded house. The new theater building, which is located at the corner of West Colorado and Elsie streets was built especially for H. Clune of Los Angeles, who operates a theater in that city. In addition to the theater the building contains a number of store rooms, a ladies' athletic club and other things. The theater itself is one of the most beautiful playhouses on the Pacific Coast, according to the statement of those who are in a position to know. It has a seating capacity of 1400. Every night was taken at last night's performance.

It is the intention of the management to give the best of attractions as often as possible and to fill the space with the best of moving picture attractions. The moving picture films will be similar to those shown in Los Angeles. The theatrical attractions will be the road shows of an act and Klaw & Erlanger, along with the stars given at the season and majestic in Los Angeles. The prices will be the same as are charged in Los Angeles for similar attractions, while the prices at the moving picture shows will be the same as is charged in Los Angeles.

The theater building was constructed by Pasadena capitalists in order to provide the city with a first-class opera house, a thing which has been needed several years. It is centrally located.

BIG FEED FOR DOCTORS.

At the close of the big convention of the American Medical Society, which will be held in Los Angeles, June 10 to 20, next, the visitors will be given a rare treat in the form of a banquet in the famous Burchard hotel. The big feed will be held on June 20, which day has been set apart as "Pasadena Day" on the program of the convention, which will be one of the largest ever held by the American Medical Society. It is estimated that 8000 will attend the meeting from eastern points, in addition to members of the society on the Pacific Coast.

Dr. F. C. E. Mattison of Pasadena, chairman of the Finance Committee, is entertaining the delegates. He is the family physician for the family and through him Adolph Burchard has extended the privileges of his beautiful gardens to the delegates. The great banquet will be given at the expense of Mr. Burchard, who placed the matter entirely in the hands of Dr. Mattison. The banquet is a rare event. In addition to this Burchard has extended a personal invitation to the officers of the society.

LOOKS WELL FOR THROOP.

Dr. R. W. Sorenson, head of the electrical engineering department of the University of California, returned yesterday from Sacramento, where he has been assisting F. A. B. Scherer in working for the Throop Institute bill, and reports that everything is looking very favorable for getting the bill enacted into law. He states that the matter could get out of the committee this week and should be voted on some time next week. He declared that the most formidable objection made by the opponents to the bill is that the position will cost too much and that an attempt is being made to attach a university in Southern California.

BUTS HOME SITE.

Frederick H. Stevens, vice-president of the American Loan and Trust Co., yesterday completed the purchase of a beautiful home site in Oak Hills. The property was bought from the estate of the late Mrs. Stevens and is being drawn for a commodious home on this property. Mrs. Stevens formerly lived in return to Buffalo. This time they have come to Southern California to make their permanent home.

ANOTHER ELECTION.

Next Tuesday another primary election will be held to permit the Socialists to vote for their candidates, who will be placed on the official ballot. The reason for this election is that it complies with the present State primary election law and the Socialists think it will give them a chance to "tighten the screws" and get some free advertising which will cost the city several hundred dollars with nothing gained.

NEWS NOTES.

J. C. McPherson, formerly superintendent of the city division of the Pacific Electric, has been appointed assistant superintendent of the northern division in charge of the Pasadena lines to succeed A. B. Wells, resigned.

McPherson formerly the Los Angeles. Arrangements have been completed for the quarterly smoker of the Merchants' Association which will be held Monday night. George A. Hanney of Atlantic City, who is spending the winter in Pasadena will be the principal speaker.

One of the delightful events of yesterday was a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Miller of No. 119 Valley View. The dinner was given in honor of Mrs. Riggs who, yesterday, celebrated her fifty-ninth birthday anniversary.

CALL MEETING IN QUICK TIME.

INJUNCTION AROUSES MEN OF THE TOWN.

Word That Order of Court Has Been Invoked to Prevent the Holding of Election on the Question of Municipal Incorporation Results in Gathering of Indignant Citizens.

TROPICO, March 1.—Word that an injunction had been directed against the incorporation election called here for next Tuesday resulted in an indignation meeting in quick time tonight. The gathering, which was at Logan's hall, was large and peppery.

The injunction restraining from holding the election was served this evening on the Board of Supervisors and the men named as members of the election board.

In less than an hour from the serving of the injunction papers a large number of the voters of Tropico who favor incorporation had assembled and those citizens who were either detained in Los Angeles or were at their places of business were summoned by telephone and hastened homeward on the first car available.

When the annexation election was held January 3 and the citizens voted against annexation the matter was dropped as the majority against annexation was so great that no one for a moment questioned the result. The Tropico citizens after the result of the election breathed easily and thought they would be allowed to continue their citizenship as they enjoyed it the last quarter of a century. But the election returns were scarcely filed and the Tropico citizens were there were rumors of the probability of the calling of another election and dividing the Tropico district.

MANY FAVOR SUNDAY CLOSING.

South Pasadena Takes Vote on the Matter and Only Two Object to Closing Idea.

SOUTH PASADENA, March 1.—Roy Stephens, the superintendent of the South Pasadena branch postoffice, has announced the result of a test of the sentiment here, upon the question of the Postmaster-General and W. H. Harrison of Los Angeles, and 90 per cent. of the people calling for mail have been found to be in favor of closing on Sunday.

After a petition, containing 1100 names of local people, had been handed in to the Postmaster-General, word came to have a blank filled out with the following result: Number of blanks signed, 94; against Sunday closing, 2; number in favor, 92; 120; number at the general delivery window, 9; number of callers who received mail, 115; number who called who were under eighteen years of age, 24. Thus it was seen that nearly 90 per cent. of those who called were in favor of Sunday closing.

The result was announced to Postmaster Harrison, who will report to the Postmaster-General, and it is likely that every postoffice under the jurisdiction of Los Angeles will be closed Sundays, the boxes, however, will be filled as usual.

"EXPRESS THE PUT."

Singular Note Left by Man Near Downey Who Takes His Life by Firing Gun Loaded With Buckshot.

DOWNEY, March 1.—A. V. Holmes, 36 years old, who had been employed by the Crescent Dairy Company here for some months, fired a load of buckshot into his brain, with a shot gun this evening. Death followed instantly. Before taking his life he wrote this note:

"Ship me belongings and trinkets to Mrs. A. V. Holmes, Beaumont, Tex. Express the put."

Before coming here Holmes was employed by the Fairbanks, Morse Company of Los Angeles. He had been in ill-health. He had been living on the beach, a mile and a half east of Suit Against Ship Company on Nerve Grounds.

LONG BEACH, March 1.—H. C. Arnold, an eastern amusement man connected with the Thompson Scenic Railway Company, today concluded negotiations with the bath-house company for a ten-year lease of ninety feet frontage on the south side of the Pike east from Cedar Way. As soon as present concessions can be removed he will begin the construction of a scenic railway which will extend 600 feet out over the ocean, for which application has been made to the War Department. The part over the water will be constructed on concrete piers. The new enterprise will cost $85,000 and will be ready for operation by July 1. Arnold several weeks ago attempted to secure a lease on property owned by the city but failed in the attempt. The Thompson people will build the railway.

A civil suit on trial today before Justice Underwood for $239 filed against the Craig ship plant by James Cooper, is regarded as one of the most important going over the water. A ship workman who came here from Toledo last spring to go to work at the Craig plant, but finding that a strike was in progress, concluded not to go to work. He is now suing for time lost by not working. The trial was not concluded today.

BOY RECOVERS QUICKLY. Alvin Ady, the boy who fractured his skull from ear to ear two weeks ago by falling on a pavement and who underwent the delicate operation of having a portion of the skull removed and several arteries tied, surprised every one today by appearing on the street apparently as well as ever. His recovery is considered remarkable.

HARBOR TIDINGS. Mayor Windham returned from Sacramento today, where he and P. C. Roberts have been working for the harbor interests of Long Beach. He says that the city has received assurances that the Long Beach harbor will be on the same basis with San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego and other harbors.

BUNGALOW MOTHER'S GIFT. When Bride and Groom Return From Trip They Will Move Into This Dwelling in Santa Monica.

SANTA MONICA, March 1.—When Mr. and Mrs. George Champney return in a few weeks from their bridal trip into the northern part of the State, it will be to take possession of their new bungalow on Montana avenue at Fourth street, which was the bride's marriage gift from her mother, Mrs. Ellen Kennedy. The wedding of this couple, which took place at the Episcopal Church yesterday evening, was one of the bright social affairs of the winter.

The bride, Miss Zaida Kennedy, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor, while on the way to the altar she was accompanied by her brother, Spencer Kennedy. The bridesmaids were Misses Dorothy Morphy and Dorothy Hutton. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. F. B. Humphrey. Woodstock and F. B. Hutton acting as groomsmen. The ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. Browne.

The bungalow, with a seating capacity of 160 will be opened in three weeks on Marine street.

Messrs. Peterson and Nordholt will erect a building at the head of Pier avenue, to be used as a garage and machine shop. The establishment will extend through to Lake street, being the largest of the kind at the beach.

WARSHIPS ARRIVE AT PORT. Flagship and Other Vessels Reach San Pedro—Will Engage in Night Maneuvers in the Channel.

SAN PEDRO, March 1.—The flagship California and the U.S.S. South Dakota and Pennsylvania, Rear-Admiral Thomas commanding, arrived this morning from San Diego, accompanied by the torpedo-boat destroyers Trout, Paul Jones, Perry, Frable, Stewart, Goldsborough, Rowan, Fox and Davis, under command of Lieut. Louis Richardson. The cruisers and destroyers have recently completed battle practice off Coronado. They will remain in the outer harbor until Saturday. While here the vessels will engage in night maneuvers in the Catalina Island channel.

GARDENA.

GARDENA, March 1.—A large milk and creamery station is being built on the side of the Los Angeles strip and track of the Los Angeles and San Bernardino Railway at Gardena. This will be a great help to the farmers about this place, who have had to haul their milk to the city or at present declared to be lacking.

SANDBAGGED AND ROBBED. Bakersfield Man Found Senseless in Vacant Lot on San Fernando Street, Stripped of Valuables.

George W. Long, an engraver, and one of the proprietors of an oil publication in Bakersfield, was found unconscious in a vacant lot in San Fernando street, near Alpine, about 3 o'clock yesterday morning. He had been sandbagged and robbed of $25 and a gold watch and chain.

Long had come to Los Angeles on a business trip and was staying at the Angelus. About 10 o'clock in the evening, after dinner at Levy's, where he changed a $50 bill to purchase a package of cigarettes, he started for College and San Fernando streets. He was walking along San Fernando street he saw a man behind him, but paid no particular attention to them. Suddenly he felt a smashing blow on top of the head, which knocked him senseless.

It was several hours later when Long was found by Patrolman Walker and a watchman of the Merchants' Fire Dispatch. He was roused with considerable difficulty. Every pocket had been turned out, and the footpads had robbed him of a number of papers and his Elk card, as well as his valuables.

PLAN EXHIBITS FOR THE SHOW.

BOARD OF TRADE TAKES UP PRODUCTS EXPOSITION.

It is Expected to Have Fine Displays From the Leflingwell Ranch and the Whittier Citrus Association—Planting Many Eucalyptus Trees Along the Skyline Drive.

WHITTIER, March 1.—There was a called meeting of the Board of Trade last night for the purpose of arranging for the Whittier exhibit at the coming Pacific Land and Products Exposition in Los Angeles.

The meeting was characterized by great enthusiasm and definite work was mapped out to make this one of the most attractive and effective exhibits undertaken by the Quaker City. It is expected to have a fine display from the Leflingwell Ranch and the Whittier Citrus Association. The Finance Committee will raise about $1500 to be used in the purchase of the various exhibits donated by the various associations. The board will also have printed several thousand descriptive booklets, and in addition there will be plenty of fruits, vegetables, flowers and nuts for distribution.

PLANT MANY GUMS. Street Superintendent John C. Stevens, had a force of men and boys at work this afternoon planting the four thousand eucalyptus trees donated to the city by the Pratt Eucalyptus Company. The trees were being planted along the sky line drive which runs over the hills just north of the city. Superintendent Hunt, after conferring with the Board of Trustees, excused all the eighth grade boys to help in the work.

Dr. A. E. Winslow, editor of the North American Journal of Education, of Boston, addressed the boys of the Whittier State School in the assembly hall yesterday afternoon.

MAKES GOOD BIG MONEY PLEDGE.

KANSAS STUDENT EARNS THOUSAND ON TIME.

"Lord Did It," Says Mother When Questioned Aged Son Who Agreed to Give Thousand to Church When He Was Without Penny—He Quit Course to Work.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) MANHATTAN (Kan.) March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Without a dollar of his own, or the prospect of obtaining one, James Benner, student in the Agricultural College here, subscribed $1000 to a building fund for a new Baptist Church here two years ago. Then he sacrificed his hope of graduating with his class, got a job and went to work. A few days ago he paid the last installment of his pledge and is back in school doing double work in the hope of being able to graduate this spring.

Young Benner refused to discuss the matter, but his mother, Mrs. Mary Benner, reluctantly gave a few facts today.

"The Lord did it," was the simple explanation she offered. "When James made that pledge he did not know where he was going to get the money any more than I would know right now where to go to pick up $1000."

All told, young Benner spent eighteen months making the thousand dollars. He has been able to pay the $5 as his share of a pledge made by his Sunday-school class.

"The Lord always takes care of those who trust him," Mrs. Benner continued. "He has been so good to us that James resolved that the first $1000 he ever made should be returned to the Lord. So when the church decided to build, James pledged $1000, and he would be shown a way to make it."

PANAMA GETS AMBITIOUS.

President of Diminutive Republic Plans Improvements to Sustain City When Uncle Sam Withdraws.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) COLON, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Panama City, if plans of the administration carry, will be made a great seaport for accommodation of steamships in the Pacific trade.

President Arosemena of late has fostered a long programme of improvements designed to enable the republic to walk alone when completion of the canal withdraws Uncle Sam's supporting hand. The scheme to improve Panama City is one of his policies.

The Pacific Coast city nominally is a sea port town, but the tide rise and fall fourteen to twenty-four feet and only vessels of the lightest draft can come up to the sea wall.

For a half mile out, there are rocky flats. The scheme is not to bring deep water to the city but to take the city out to deep water by filling in the shallows.

The cost is estimated at $10,000,000. The Canal Commission is to do the same work at Balboa which will divert all traffic there unless Panama follows suit.

WIDOW WEDS NINTH MATE.

Indiana Woman, 70, Has Inherited Enough Insurance and Estates to Make Her Wealthy.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEWBURG (Ind.) March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Polly Ann Weed, a widow whose last name appropriately might be plural in view of the number of times she has been in mourning, today took unto herself her ninth husband. She is 70 years of age.

Mrs. Weed was married when a young woman to James Weed and with each recurring death or divorce of subsequent husbands, she has retaken his name. Her first marriage was solemnized two years ago at Newburg. Weed died, as did three following husbands, two by suicide. Four of the men she divorced. She says she has gained enough property through estates and

OFFERS REWARD FOR GEMS.

London Underwriters Will Pay $5000 for Return of Mrs. Drummond's Jewels Stolen on Steamer.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) NEW YORK, March 1.—The London underwriters with whom Mrs. Malvina Drummond had insured her stolen pearls and rings, offered a reward today of $5000 for their return.

Mrs. Drummond, who was formerly Mrs. Marshall Field, Jr., of Chicago, has been quoted as saying that she would give at least $5000 for the return of her jewels.

The theft took place on board the steamship America some time between 10:30 p.m. Saturday, and 3:30 the following morning, when the America docked. At that time the value of the jewels was estimated at $100,000, though through sentimental associations, Mrs. Drummond held them priceless.

ROAD WANTS PROXY VOTE. BALTIMORE, March 1.—Requests for proxies to be voted at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, March 14, were sent out by the banking house of Milender, Williams and Company, at Richmond, Va. Mr. Williams said the end sought is the election of a member of the board to represent certain stockholders who are identified with either majority or minority. He declared there was no contest of interests.

EDUCATIONAL NOTES. As dexterity with the hands frequently demands considerable mental effort, so manual training appears to react upon the brain in a stimulative way. This is the conclusion of Professor Hagedorn of Austria, Poland, and Doctor Schuyler of Antwerp, who, at the recent International Congress of School Hygiene at Paris, advocated the view, based upon experimentation, that manual training has the effect of developing mental faculties of concentration. Many have noticed the beneficial effect of manual labor upon mental activity, a historic example being that of Gladstone and his tree-chopping—an experience which he shared with Horace Greeley and Abraham Lincoln.—[Truth's Companion.]

The executive committee of the National Negro Business League, which met at Tuskegee institute in January, has issued a call to colored people all over the country to set aside the third week in October, 1913, for the celebration of what will be known as the fifth anniversary week. It is proposed that schools, churches and other organizations in each community unite for the purpose of celebrating the progress made by the colored people during their fifty years of freedom.

Whether an artificial language, Esperanto, or Ido, or something else, will ever become the world's tongue, or whether one of the existing languages will take that position, is a question that admits of considerable argument. But the fact remains that Chinese and English is making wonderful strides. It is already the common language of some 100,000,000, probably a larger number than the last two centuries have ever known. BATTLE FOR BORES BEFORE THE COUNCIL.

Citizens and Property Owners Argue the Merits of Various Tunnel Plans, Fourth Street Rallying to the Support of Second Street Against First, Making a Strong Camp—Fourth Street Project Withdrawn.

THE EXPONENTS of the First-street and Second-street tunnel projects met at the Council
yesterday morning in a second battle of Bunker Hill. They all wanted tunnels through Bunker Hill, but they were radically at variance as to the location. The sensation of the day was the bolting of the Fourth-street tunnel people into the camp of the Second-street Tunnel Association. The Fourth-street project was withdrawn.
The Second-street people were able to show a large majority of the public support and interest in their project,
while the First-street people fell back on the recommendations of the City Engineer.

The First-street people had the first inning. Will D. Gould opened the argument with a statement of the needs of the people in the northwest part of the city. He predicted that First street would carry more traffic than Broadway does at the present time.
Councilman Washburn asked him who would pay the $500,000 this tunnel
would cost, and he replied that the people expected the city to pay it.
"Have you any idea where the city

it to be, is to connect up our great business district on the east with the immense territory to the city's northwest. By the northwest, I do not mean the few cottages, rooming-houses and apartment-house sites north of First street, on the west side of the hill, but I mean the miles and miles of territory now connected up with our city by steel rails and the finest boulevards in the world. I mean the great San Fernando Valley, twenty by forty miles, in which private capital alone has recently spent $500,000 in building private boulevards, where $3,500,000 worth of property has been sold in the past few weeks in small tracts to home builders, and where the most thickly-populated farming country in California will soon be settled.

I mean the growing town of Glendale
and all of Glendale Valley, Tropic, Burbank, to which the Interurban road
is now building, and all that territory
south of Hollywood, the finest residence section about the city, which could come conveniently down West First street to its junction with Second street to the mouth of our Second-street tunnel on the finest grade to the west of the hills.

WHAT IS PLANNED.
"Our plan provides for the tunnel
coming out at Hill street, 120 feet north of Second. South of a line drawn east and west from the eastern part of our proposed tunnel, I claim, lies four-fifths of the active business district of this city. Dozens of tall stately buildings rear their heads skyward from this business center, and applications
to construct fourteen-story buildings and taller ones have to be turned down by the City Council on account of their height. To the north of our proposed tunnel, you can count on the fingers of your one hand, I believe,
the six-story buildings, including the Courthouse structures, International Bank building, the Bullard Block, and the old Hamburger wreck, now deserted. I can keep with my friend,
Mr. Edwards, at the cold shoulder turned toward the old part of town,
where the big bankers once held their court, and the noise of the city circled around the old Plaza to our north."
"But the taxpayer calls for business policy in the management of the city's affairs. Would the Council be justified in building a $500,000 tunnel for the purpose of conveying the traffic of the northwest down to Chinatown, Sonoratown, or even to dear old Boyle Heights? If they did, would the northwest thank them for it? Being somewhat of a practical turn of mind, I must confine my sentiment to less costly things—I must agree with my friend, Mr. Gould, that First street as it stands at present is a 'dead one,'
and that if we do not play more practical politics she will be deadlier still."
"No, what we want is to get directly to the business center by the quick-

One of the largest and most signifi-

when the Citizens Investment Company sold to the Golden Gate Fruit Company of Alameda and New York,
the Orchardland ranch, in the San Fer-

north of the great valley holdings of the Los Angeles Suburban Homes

the new townsite of Van Nuys. The property is 414 acres in extent, and the consideration involved in its transfer

WANT COWBOY HUSBANDS.

Postmaster Receives Missive From
Two New Jersey Maidens, Asking Him to Get Them Real Heroes.

Two loveless maidens, residing in Camden, N. J., who believe that Los Angeles is nothing more than a resort for gaily bedecked horsemen of the plains, have written to Postmaster Harrison asking him to get them cowboy husbands.

The Postmaster has instructed his assistant to inform them that he has not an available supply of the kind of men they desire on hand. Their letter follows:

"We are two young girls, 17 and 18 years of age. We would both like very much if you would please try and find us two nice cowboys, as we have heard so much about them. We have had a

With a petition bearing the signatures of 25,000 mining men of Arizona and California, W. W. Bass, twenty-five years a guide in the Grand Canyon, will leave for Washington today, to register a determined opposition to the proposed measure before Congress setting aside certain portions of the canyon
for a national forest reserve.

This will be his sixth consecutive visit for the same purpose. His initial trip was made during the administration of the late President McKinley.
At that time the Santa Fe, through the Department of the Interior, sought to have a reserve created which would include a vast portion of the scenic wonder spot.

Bass and other residents at the canyon
who have been prospecting there for upward of a quarter of a century, allege that the scheme, if successful,

plotted for its vast timber and mineral wealth.

For these avowed reasons the Santa Fe has endeavored persistently to have a national reserve created. Frequently the bill has gone through the committees, but has met defeat on the floor.

The battle waged almost single-handed by Bass is remarkable. He had to contend with opposition headed by Gifford Pinchot, deposed Forester, but each time succeeded in winning his point.

Bass is hopeful of winning the fight
now. For the past two months he has maintained a residence in this city and has been busily engaged laying out his line of battle. He has amassed a bundle after bundle of documents showing the vast advantages to be gained by Arizona and contiguous territory if the forestry petition is denied.

He has prepared statistics showing the remarkable wealth of the Grand Can-yon's mines and forests, which will continue in a state of non-development
if the reserve is created. The geology of the quich is also discussed at length
by Bass.

him exorbitant rates for shipping his goods, and placed obstacles in the way of patrons of the camp. Bass has filed interests, and possesses the only asbestos deposit in the country.

servation bill," said he yesterday. "I think when the Congressmen read the names of the 25,000 signers of the opposition petition they will realize the sentiment of the California and Arizona mining men."

by the passage of the bill. If it is voted the Salt Lake, will succeed in getting rights of way to the canyon, and in that way share the enormous profits of the tourist traffic, over 20,000 tourists

visited the Grand Canyon last year,

reason why the Santa Fe doesn't want other roads to come in."

DASHES UPON TRACK

IN CROSSING the tracks of the Los Angeles Pacific Railway, about two miles east of Beverly, late yesterday afternoon, John Corrigan, 65 years old, a prominent oil man of Cleveland,
and well known in Masonic circles,
was almost instantly killed. A trolley car hit his automobile, and when he was picked up, mangled, he was breathing his last. He died without regaining consciousness.

The machine was demolished. James Kuntz, Jr., of Pasadena, lifted the dying man into his own auto, for a fast run to the Receiving Hospital. The race against death, however, was over before the Kuntz machine had started.
For Corrigan's skull was fractured. It is considered remarkable that he lived an instant after the accident.

Witnesses declare that Corrigan, alone, was driving his machine, a four-passenger car, at a speed of about thirty miles an hour. They say the motorman of the car saw the automobile approach the place where the tracks cross Wilshire boulevard, and signaled with the whistle. Corrigan reduced the speed of his machine somewhat, and just about the time the

Over and over the automobile rolled,

P. J. Pirotte, a special officer, was on the front seat of the trolley car.
He confirms the motorman's statement that Corrigan slowed up and then made a spur to get across the track after he had been warned. F. P. LaMar re-Sawtelle, was another witness. His statement is similar to that of the other two.

As soon as the car could be stopped,
the crew, Pirotte, and LaMar leaped from it and hurried to Corrigan. An automobile numbered 41,107 California,
was stopped and the driver requested to take Corrigan to a hospital. He refused because, he said, he had ladies
in the machine.

Kuntz arrived an instant later and volunteered to help. Corrigan's body was cold when it was taken into the hospital.

A telegram and several letters addressed to Corrigan at No. 1601 South Fair-Oaks avenue, Pasadena, disclosed his identity. He wore emblems showing that he was a thirty-second degree Mason and a Knight Templar, and a member of the Elks' club.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Councilmen Washburn, Gregory and Stewart yesterday issued a statement calling attention to the fact that the adoption of the proposed charter amendments at next Monday's election will unfavorably affect the city's financial interests.

Building Inspector Backus returned from Sacramento and reported to the Board of Public Works yesterday that he had secured fifty changes in the tenement house act which will improve conditions for builders in Los Angeles.

Allegations of fraud were made in an action filed yesterday, by Addie Zschokelt against the firm of W. H. Macomber Company, involving the sale of what is said to be worthless school land in Riverside county.

J. W. Wheeler was convicted of murder in Judge Willis's court yesterday and the jury fixed the punishment at imprisonment for life.

A. W. Hutton presented contestant's side of the litigation for a share of the Baldwin millions in Judge Riva's court yesterday.

The will of John H. Norton was filed for probate yesterday. The estate is worth nearly $700,000. One-half goes to the wife, and after the payment of small annuities, the daughter secures the balance.

At the City Hall.

CHARTER CHANGES LOOK UNWISE.

COUNCILMEN OFFER MANY OBJECTIONS TO AMENDMENTS.

Washburn, Gregory and Stewart issued statements showing that financial interests of the city will be unfavorably affected by proposed patchwork.

Three members of the City Council yesterday issued a statement in which they advise the people of Los Angeles against the adoption of the charter amendments to be voted on next Monday. These Councilmen—Washburn, Gregory and Stewart—are the three members of the present legislative body who have had wide business experience and long practical experience in working for the public welfare of Los Angeles.

The reasons given by them why the charter amendments should not be adopted are sufficient to cause grave doubts of the outcome of Monday's special election. They are briefly stated by the voters as follows: The expectation of the people that when the aqueduct is finished some profit can be obtained that will compensate in some measure for the risks they have assumed will not be realized. The $6,000,000 which they will have contributed by direct taxation will be entirely lost.

The aqueduct debt cannot be reduced by purchase of our own bonds. It can only be paid as it comes due in equal payments during the next thirty-six years. The time could easily be reduced one-half even with very low water rates and with an enormous saving of interest.

Unwarranted powers are conferred on the commission having the Harbor and Power Departments and continues those of the Water Department at a time when, in our opinion, they may properly be reduced.

These three great revenue-producing departments will have excess funds which they can expend without restraint while the other departments of the city are starving.

We need a new charter, not amendments. The section should grant the Council permission to pass ordinances, not amending the charter with ordinances covering all matters pertaining to the governing of the city.

These amendments at this time are ill-advised and will not permit us to set a new charter in two years.

There is great danger of amendment at this time as the special effort will be put to carry it, while amendment, so, which alone makes any surplus in harbor and power departments available for general uses of the city, may lose because no special effort will be put forth to carry it.

The most objectionable feature of the charter amendments in the mind of the men whom the present City Council has selected to manage the financial affairs of the city is amendment five, which they will unfavorably affect the financial interests of the city. The extraordinary powers enjoyed by the Water Commission at present, they say, were granted at a time when the City acquired the plant of the old Los Angeles Water Company. It was necessary at that time, to give this commission full sway.

In another respect the proposed charter amendments seriously affect the water situation. They provide that after the city has raised the $6,000,000 special tax levy for payment of interest on the aqueduct bonds, which it will have done before the project is completed, there will be no way of saving back any of this money out of the revenues. These revenues have been sold out to the people of Los Angeles as one of the reasons for bonding themselves to build this aqueduct. In the prospecting the having a paying property for the public.

One of the proposed charter amendments is to this effect: "None of the money in said water revenue fund or coming under the control of said board, in connection with the operation and management of the waterworks, and of making all current and extraordinary extensions, betterments and repairs."

them and that, on the whole, they would better be passed than rejected.

AID BUILDERS.

TENEMENT ACT MODIFIED. City Building Inspector Backus, who was recently granted a leave of absence by the City Council to go to Sacramento for the purpose of securing improvements in the tenement house act, reported yesterday to the Board of Public Works. He said he had secured some fifty modifications and changes in the Burnett act which would operate for the benefit of builders in Los Angeles.

An exception to the act was secured which allows the building of two-story flat buildings accommodating not more than four families outside the restrictions of the act. The eight-foot-square kitchen, the kitchen, the bathroom, the "bureau" kitchen. The percentage of an inside lot on an alley that may be used was increased. The requirement for brick chimneys in every apartment in a tenement-house was eliminated. The requirement that a tenement-house erected on a lot over nine feet long be separated in two parts was removed. The height limit of fourteen feet for store-front tenement-houses was also eliminated. Many other changes important to builders in Los Angeles were secured.

M'GILL UNDER FIRE.

Charges against W. H. McGill, clerk in the Health Department, were filed yesterday with the Civil Service Commission by E. L. Alvord, another clerk in the same department. There has been friction for some time between the two men and Dr. Powers has been trying to find out where the trouble lies. The work of the office is divided between them and it has been difficult to tell where the inefficiency, if any, exists.

The charges against McGill are that he is incompetent to perform the duties of his office; that the work he does is not correct or efficient; that he spends too much time performing other duties; and that he does not work in harmony with other employees of the office. McGill has been active in the work of the Federated Improvement Association, acting as its secretary, and although this is not specified in the charges, it is probably the outside work that is referred to. The Civil Service Commission will probably not have a hearing until next week.

FRAUD ALLEGED IN LAND DEAL.

WOMAN SUES TO RECOVER COIN PAID AGENTS.

She Declares Character of Soil Was Misrepresented by the Members of Firm, and Says That in Other Particulars Just Treatment Was Not Accorded Her.

An action alleging serious charges against a real estate firm of this city was filed in the Superior Court yesterday. The complaint more than hints at irregular methods of selling State school land.

The plaintiff in the case is Addie Zschokelt, a widow of this city. The defendants are W. H. Macomber and W. D. Roberts, doing business as W. H. Macomber Company. The prayer of the petition is for the recovery of $345 in cash that it is alleged the woman paid the firm, and the cancellation of a note for $250, the money being paid and the note given June 9, 1910. Mrs. Zschokelt is a hard-working woman and the money represents the savings of years.

The complaint sets out that the defendants promised to secure for her a section of State land and that from their personal knowledge they knew it to be good land and well adapted to agricultural purposes. It is further stated that at the time the deal was closed the defendants induced the woman to sign a document, which they said was merely a formality, when in fact it was an affidavit to the effect that she had examined every subdivision of the section and had been satisfied with the condition of every forty acres of the section.

The plaintiff further says that after the deal was consummated an examination shows that it is not level, and is not adapted to agricultural purposes; that it does not lie within the Chuckawalla Valley in Riverside county, as had been represented, and that it is worthless for any purpose.

Wholesale allegations of fraud and deceit are made against the defendants, who it is said took advantage of the fact that she was old and uneducated and had been acquainted with the ways of the world.

Two other suits of similar character were recently filed against these defendants at the same time. Jones and Evans, who brought the action yesterday. In both instances settlements were made, it is stated.

BALDWIN CASE.

ARGUMENTS HEARD. The feature of the arguments in the Baldwin case yesterday was the point made by A. W. Hutton, for the contestant, Beatrice Anita Baldwin Turnbull. In regard to the relations that existed between "Lucky" Baldwin and Miss Ashley.

The speaker said that after the death of Baldwin's first wife, the horseman had no women about his family that it had been shown by undisputed testimony Miss Ashley was there for more than a month. It was also suggested that if Baldwin had lived at the California street home, as has been alleged by the defense, the widow, Lillian Bennett Baldwin, would have been summoned to substantiate the claim.

It was declared that when Detective Wood saw Baldwin at Saratoga, in 1903, "Lucky" told him that he had defeated three or four cases similar to this, and that he had no fear of any litigation.

The speaker said that if she was the mistress of Baldwin, it was rather queer that she would be satisfied with the mere pittance that it had been shown Baldwin had given her, when he was such a rich man.

CARBONNE CASE.

AGAIN BEFORE A JURY. The second trial of Pietro Carbonne, charged with the murder of John Stasi, October 18, last year, began before Judge McCormick and a jury yesterday. It will be in progress several days. On the occasion of the first hearing the jury was divided on the question of the guilt or innocence of the accused.

Carbonne and Stasi were both employed as laborers for the Pacific Electric Railway. Stasi was foreman. It is alleged that Stasi discharged a fellow-countryman of Carbonne's, and a fight followed. As a result, Stasi was shot and killed. Self-defense will be urged in behalf of the prisoner.

James Daley was sentenced to San Quentin for three years, on the charge of grand larceny, to which he had pleaded guilty. Daley stole $20 from the person of J. Johnson.

The case of Roscoe Guin, former attorney of the Belasco theater, will be before the court this morning. He has pleaded guilty to misdemeanor embezzlement, and a strong effort is being made to throw him out on parole.

The following informations were filed, and the accused will be arraigned this morning: Charles Galloway, burglary; George H. Fell, burglary.

DIAMOND CASE.

PAWN-BROKERS WIN. Judge Hutton, yesterday, decided for defendants in the action brought by Mrs. Meta T. Mitchell to recover $750 from A. M. B. Cohn, pawn-brokers of this city. This sum represented the alleged value of a diamond ring sold to the defendants.

The case was heard some time ago. It appeared that the ring had been stolen by Jessie Reynolds, alias Jessie Norton, and sold to the defendants. The theft was discovered and the girl confessed that she had disposed of the jewelry. In the meantime the ring had been sold by the Cohns to "Pet" the Greek. When the loss was reported to them they had the man return the ring.

When it was offered to Mrs. Mitchell she refused to receive the ring, claiming that the canary-colored diamond in the ring had been exchanged for a cheap imitation. She said the ring offered her was not her property.

Suit was then brought against the Cohns to recover the alleged value of the ring, by the wife of the Greek. In Judge Hutton's opinion, there had been no substitution.

WOMAN'S WILL.

REMEMBERS RELATIVES. The will of Jennie A. Reeve, who died at Long Beach, February 24, was offered for probate yesterday. Her estate is valued at $50,000. A trust fund is provided of $10,000 for the care of a brother, Henry C. Allen, of New York, and a sister, Harriet Hegeman.

Two other heirs are being questioned for the care and education of her grandson, Kenneth G. Darling, to whom she also gives her extensive real estate. The daughter of the estate goes to the daughter of the estate, Mary R. Darling, who resides at Claremont. The last-named was C. J. Walker are named in the will.

MUST GO TO JAIL.

COMMITMENT NOT WITHHELD. Yesterday Judge Wilbur denied the application made in the case of R. B. Harrison, found guilty of a felony in Judge Davis' court. He was sentenced to San Quentin for five years. He asked that the commitment be withheld and that the court admit him to probation.

When the case was determined in the Superior Court, an appeal was taken. The judgment and sentence of the court was affirmed. The point then raised was that the Superior Court had the authority to suspend the sentence imposed even after the defendant had been received. The District Attorney asked for the opinion that the court had such jurisdiction and authority.

Judge Wilbur, in denying Harrison clemency, stated that the local mental agency, which is the duty of the city of Harrison appealed to him, but under the evidence in the case he did not think that he would be justified in allowing Harrison to go on probation. He therefore denied the motion.

JAIL FOR LIFE.

KILLED A WOMAN. After a deliberation of less than twenty minutes, the jury in Judge Willis' court, last evening, returned to court with a verdict of murder in the first degree, against J. W. Wheeler. He was charged with shooting and killing his common-law wife, Cora E. Hunter, at the Paris rooming-house, No. 644 1/2 East First street. The jury recommended imprisonment for life, and Judge Willis will pass the sentence tomorrow morning.

Wheeler, a blacksmith and he had been living with his victim for some time. It was shown that he became jealous because she entertained other company, and shot her to death.

HORTON ESTATE.

FILED FOR PROBATE. The will of John H. Norton, who died February 7, was filed for probate yesterday. The value of the estate is given in the petition as $1,635. The building occupied by the H. Jevne Company, at Sixth and Broadway is appraised at $450,000. There is a mortgage on the property, however, of $125,000. In addition, the holdings at Nos. 719-21-23 South Broadway are valued at $112,625. Shares in the Citizens' National Bank are valued at $40,000.

The will declares that all of the holdings of the testator are community property, and therefore his wife, Mary Frances Norton, is entitled to one-half of the entire amount. He provides for his sisters, and other relatives.

court-room narrowly escaped being the scene of a fight between Dr. Homer A. Hansen and Dr. Clarendon A. Foster.

The two men were witnesses in the action, and the lie passed between them. It is said that Hansen landed one blow before they were separated. Judge Monroe promptly fined the fighters $25 each for contempt of court. Afterward this amount was reduced to $10 each.

The suit was to enjoin the defendants from selling stock of the Tojuna Rock Company, which Dr. Cowles bought of Foster. The stock was purchased from Foster, Minnie L. Foster and Mary H. Foster. When Cowles went to the office of the corporation to have the stock transferred on the books he was informed that the secretary of the company was not present and that it could not be done.

Afterward a suit was brought against Foster and Charles Wetherill by Wilson, and the stock attached. When judgment was rendered, the stock was levied on and the Sheriff ordered to sell it. At the instance of Dr. Cowles a temporary restraining order was issued out of court.

Judge Monroe ordered this to remain in force until the 27th inst. In the meantime the matter will be submitted on briefs.

CHARGES BOARDER.

WIFE RUNS AWAY. Lot Barrett, who says he was married to Ruth Barrett, in London, England, in 1900, brought an action in the Superior Court yesterday against F. P. Ebinger, for $15,000 damages for the alleged alienation of his wife's affections.

Barrett says that the defendant was a boarder at his home from 1902 to February 17 last, when his wife left him. The plaintiff says that for eight years he had lived in harmony with his wife, and that her affections have been stolen by the defendant.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS. MARRIAGE LICENSE RECORD. During February there were 406 marriage licenses issued by the marriage bureau, were $640, divided as follows: Probate, $1148.85; civil, $4611.50; miscellaneous, $1079.65; divided with the law library and the jewelry account, the first-named being apportioned $1024, and the last, $596.

CASE OF PALEN. In Judge Willis' court the case of John C. Palen, the attorney who pleaded guilty to forgery, and has filed his application for probation, was continued for one week. The friends of Palen are making a strenuous effort to have sentence in his instance suspended.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF. In the suit brought by William E. Green against Thomas H. B. Varney and Val Costello to recover $10,252 on account of injuries received while Green was working on a sign at Dominguez Junction, a jury in Judge House's court yesterday brought in a verdict for the plaintiff, for $1514.75.

MACFARLAND ESTATE. A petition was filed in the Probate Court yesterday by A. H. MacFarland, for letters of administration of the estate of Don H. MacFarland, who died in San Francisco, February 21, leaving an estate of $60,000. The largest asset in the estate consists of 355 shares of the United Petroleum Company, valued at $40,000.

INCORPORATIONS.

Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday by the Globe Storage and Transfer Company, capital stock, $25,000; incorporators, N. E. Acker, Ruth I. Watson and Fred A. Feltner, subscribers, capital stock, $25,000; incorporators, G. G. Kenoyer, Henrietta E. Kenoyer, D. M. Pidge, Gerald Pidge and Elmer Ostergard, subscribers, $25,000. The National Astronomical Society of the United States, incorporators, Frederick White, Simon P. Spatis and Herbert P. McCart.

IN THE INFERIOR COURTS.

Local Real Estate Man Charged With Striking Wife Is Released on Bail in Police Court.

R. L. Tatum, who is charged by his wife with striking her after a wordy engagement, was arrested yesterday morning on a warrant sworn out for him by his wife. He was taken into court before Police Judge Rose and after released on $50 cash bail.

Tatum is about 22 years old. When asked by Police Judge Rose how he wished to plead, he stated that he wished to consult with his attorney. The case was then continued to the 15th inst.

Mrs. Tatum was not in court. She secured a complaint Tuesday afternoon.

Tatum has offices in the Story building. He lived with his wife in the Owen Apartments until the trouble occurred Monday.

DIDN'T LEAVE.

OFFENDER REARRESTED. Mrs. R. Hoffman, charged with violating the liquor ordinance and with conducting an improper place, was found in the city yesterday morning after having been told to get out of town by the policeman in the City Jail.

Mrs. Hoffman appeared before Police Judge Williams Tuesday and paid $100 fine for violating the liquor ordinance. The court released her from the second charge under a suspended sentence of 180 days. She promised to leave the city at once.

LET GO.

IS REARRESTED. Clarence Stith, who secured a suspension of a 180-day sentence in Police Judge Williams' court a few days ago, was rearrested yesterday morning by Patrolman McMahon. He will be taken back to court by the officer in an attempt to have the sentence enforced.

Stith is charged with attempting to dispose of some jewelry in a Central avenue restaurant yesterday morning. The proprietor became suspicious and the police were called. Stith's identification followed.

ZEALOT FINED.

HE TALKS TOO MUCH. F. L. Porter paid a $15 fine in Police Court yesterday morning for disturbing the peace while arguing that the Christian religion is inferior to the Mohammedan belief.

Porter is an American citizen, but he has accepted the tenets of Mohammedanism. He entered a restaurant at Seventh and Main streets Tuesday night, and while intoxicated talked in a manner objectionable to others present. He was arrested.

"You can hold whatever religious beliefs you wish in America," Police Judge Frederickson said, "but you can't force it upon anyone else."

Held for Trial.

Robert Pullen, the negro, charged with shooting a white man because he was jealous of the latter's attentions to a Japanese girl, was held for trial in the Superior Court yesterday under $500 bail.

Case Transferred.

To avoid further delay in the examination of Flournoy Pierpont, the young man charged with passing fictitious checks while living at one of the hotels of Pasadena, the case was dismissed in Police Judge Chambers' court yesterday morning. A new one was filed in Police Judge Rose's court.

Tries Gas Route. After dressing himself in his best clothes, Charles Brau, rooming at No. 302 East Third street, opened the gas jet in his room yesterday morning and reclined upon the bed to await the end. W. J. Kennedy, the landlord, detected the fumes. He broke open the door and summoned the police. Brau was taken to the Receiving Hospital. He will probably recover.

DEFENDANT NEAR DEATH.

Indicted Official of Cleveland Oil Company Unable to Come Here for Arraignment in Court.

Dr. W. A. France, formerly head of the Cleveland Oil Company, who was to have appeared here yesterday for arraignment on a felony charge, lies at death's door in Columbus.

The United States Attorney received a number of physicians' certificates which stated that it was doubtful if France will ever leave his bed. They intimate that the cause of his death may be expected at any time.

Dr. France was indicted with the other directors of the oil company on charges of having used land and city upon telegraphic advice from the local authorities. He was ill at the time and a Federal Commissioner released him from custody on bail. One of the conditions of the bond was that he was to appear here for arraignment.

Chapter 20 Mutual Relations

One million dollars in wages is distributed annually in this city by the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation—a considerable factor in the development of the community. Six hundred thousand dollars more is expended for oil from the local fields. Another million is paid out through local channels for building material and other supplies. Only a small portion of the large annual expenditures of this company leaves the city or the State.

More than one thousand officers and employees of the company are permanent residents of Los Angeles. Many of them have spent twenty years or more in the service. Probably no other institution of similar scope is so purely a "home industry."

The interests of the city and of this company are so closely intertwined that the well-being of one depends largely on the well-being of the other. This company, giving perfect service at the lowest possible rates, strives constantly to earn and retain the good will of the people of Los Angeles, and to promote mutual prosperity.

Tuberculosis

We are the originators of a method of treatment for tuberculosis of the lungs, which has for years proven the most effective of any known by the Medical Profession. Owing to the imperfect method of treatment, the full benefits to be derived from the use of this drug have not been obtained. We have overcome this deficiency by our manner of administration, and offer to those afflicted, the fruits of our years of study and experience.

To show our faith in the effectiveness of our method, we make a limited time, an examination and week's treatment absolutely free. We expect to see you greatly improved in this short time and to give you the privilege of discontinuing if we fail to demonstrate our method to you. We desire to convince you that our treatment is the best and most effective.

Good Showing of Oil. The medical treatment alone would suffice in many cases, but we employ Ozone generated by electrical discharge, and frequency currents and X Rays. We have the finest electrical equipment on the Coast. Our Electrotherapist has had years of experience in the use of these methods in the administration of the full benefit of his wide experience.

Not only do we treat tuberculosis, but with our facilities, we treat successfully all diseases of the respiratory system. Many cases of Diseases of Women, which have proven refractory to other scientific methods, readily yield to our mode of treatment. We do not claim to cure every disease of mankind, but we specialize we acknowledge no superiors. We claim that our methods of administration lead the way to be desired and used to substantiate our assertion in a practical manner.

If you are afflicted with tuberculosis, come and see us, and of free treatment, and we feel assured that you will share our success in the success of our treatment. Our Physicians will accord you thorough and conscientious treatment.

CAUSE FOR COMPLAINT.

An Italian has complained to the police that one of his friends has stolen his life, his boy and $400 in cash. His friend went too far in taking the cash.

SHORT STRUGGLE.

The Missouri couple that married Monday at the ages of 81 and 71 have not much time in which to answer the question, Is matrimony a failure?

RESISTANCE.

Promises for a new Southern Pacific spot in Los Angeles bear a sad resemblance to the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. What a big "if" that "if" is, is sure!

OFFICIAL COURAGE.

A government chemist at Washington as married a suffragette. The husband of suffragette is not a suqman. At the same time there is something in the heroism of this chemist reminding us of the days when knighthood was in flower.

SORRY THEY DID IT.

Evidently some of the Councilmen are sorry that they body submitted to the voters such a makeshift, such a botch, as the group of proposed charter amendments. Three members are outspoken in their opposition. What Los Angeles needs is a brand new charter along new lines. Tinkering the old much-tinkered contraption will never make a good charter of it. The very authors of the newly-submitted amendments already admit that they lack.

COMMON ERROR.

Yesterday's newspapers contained at least two stories by telegraph in which good women were supporting their husbands in questionable dealings with other women and thought it their duty as wives to do so. In the same way it sometimes happens that a mother will make light of the delinquency of her son, if it happens that the girl involved is not of her son's social status. As long as women will stand for the misdeeds of the men in their lives, that long will all women suffer.

THE TUNNEL BATTLE.

The tunnel war is not over yet, but yesterday's hearing certainly brought out a preponderance of feasibility for the Second-street proposition. We believe it would be the part of wisdom for the proponents of the first-street project, who have labored so valiantly, to swing into line for Second street. The abandonment of the Fourth-street enterprise by its promoters—who had realized that the cost was prohibitive—and their uniting with the advocates of the Second-street tunnel, was very significant. It showed that the more thoroughly the situation is studied the stronger appear the arguments for the Second-street project. A full all together now will bring about the desired result. It should not be difficult for those originally favoring a First-street bore to transfer their support to a tunnel one block to the south, in view of the apparent impossibility of committing the Council to their original plan.

TRIUMPH OF THE JACK POT.

Jack Pot Lorimer has "won in." He has won into the United States Senate, but cannot live long enough to win into the public esteem. He is branded "condemned" as effectively as if he were a barrel of rotten beef or pork. Even those members of the Senate who felt compelled, for technical reasons, to vote to retain him in his seat will be apt to treat him as a political pariah, unless they desire to borrow money from him. Pomeroy of Kansas, Casserly of California and Clark of Montana had each the good sense and the good sense to resign rather than allow the evidence of his evil deeds to be perpetuated in the public records. Not so with the man who disgraces Illinois by his presence in the Senate. He is content with a Scotch verdict of "not proven." "How did it happen that the defendant was acquitted?" inquired a citizen of the farmer whose hog was stolen—"The proof was clear that he stole the hog!" "Oh," replied the complaining witness, "I reckon that each of the jury men got some of the pork."

OME EVILS OF THE JOKE.

If some of the great thinkers who are philosophizing on the political significance of woman suffrage or the prophetic consequences of race suicide or the reasons for the appalling number of divorces would give some of their valuable time to the consideration and correction of many of the prevailing jokes and their far-reaching evil effects they would be doing humanity a service. A popular joke usually becomes a popular sentiment. Ridiculing and deriding persons and institutions that should be honored and held sacred is indisputably one of our American failings and its consequences are greater and more evil than many of us are willing to believe. Any ideal or sentiment may be destroyed by indiscriminate jesting. Who of us can tell to just what extent many of our expressions are due to jokes and ridicule?

The mother-in-law, the maiden aunt, the sister-in-law, down to the baby brother have been and still are the ever-popular targets for witticisms which are not generally good-natured. This continually slurring at the mother-in-law is especially deplorable on account of the bad influence it has on young minds that cannot separate the amusing from an actual truth. This sentiment has been so instilled into the subconscious minds of boys by the jokesmiths, or, sad to say, by "me" himself, that when boys grow up they feel it incumbent upon them to take a stand towards a wife's mother and

FIFTEEN PATCHES.

The Los Angeles city charter is a crazy-quilt combination of different colored rags and tags, with a few scraps of velvet gowns. It resembles nothing in heaven or earth, or the waters under the earth so much as it resembles the latest edition of Mulligan's breeches. Mulligan bought his pantaloons in August at a second-hand shop. They were made originally of a diaphanous fabric suited to the season. When the autumn rains came he encased them in gutta percha cloth. But his strenuous life soon disintegrated the covering and the summer fabric of the original leg-covering proving too light to keep out the cold, it was reinforced by woolen patches at the knees and over the fundament. Then the woolen cloth turned out to be shoddy and when the ethereal mildness of gentle spring came the patches had to be repatched in order to keep Mulligan's epidermis from the vulgar gaze. The later patches soon wore thin and now a fourth layer of patches is called for.

Fifteen amendments to the Los Angeles charter are to be submitted to the voters of this city next Monday. These amendments have already been published in extenso in The Times, and to review them all in detail would inflict a punishment on its readers that the common dictates of humanity forbid. But a brief review of a few of them seems to be necessary for the information of voters who will "never, never, hardly ever" read them all.

Section 2 of Charter Amendment No. 1 is intended to give the corporation power to do everything except to raise a family or establish an asylum for feeble-minded voters, or provide nickel-in-the-slot games and roulette wheels for the Industrial Workers of the World. It is true that there is nothing said in it specifically about conducting high-class, low-priced gin mills for refreshing closed-shop laborites, or establishing dispensaries or dance halls. But these, with other powers, may be inferred from the concluding phrases of Section 2, which provide that the city may "establish institutions inside or outside the city limits necessary for promoting the health, morals, education or welfare of the inhabitants of the city, or for their amusement, recreation or benefit."

There is some doubt whether the power to establish the institutions named "outside of the city limits" would warrant the common Council in causing an astronomical observatory to be built on Point Vicente, or a souphouse at Pasadena where visiting millionaires could be entertained, or in running a strictly moral combination managerie and merry-go-round establishment in the new town of Van Nuys.

The final section of Amendment No. 1 limits the indebtedness of the city—except for the establishment of public utilities—to 3 per cent. of the assessed property valuation. But, as the amount of indebtedness must, to a certain extent, be governed by the amount of public expenditures, there should have been a clause limiting the number of convictions in the Police Court and the number of inmates of almshouses and hospitals that should be received in any one year.

Amendment No. 2 deals elaborately with the initiative, the referendum and the recall. As neither the precinct statesman who wrote this amendment nor any voter who may attempt the brain-fagging task of reading it could possibly comprehend it between now and election day, The Times will not discuss it, but will content itself with remarking that it resembles the peace of God, for it passes all understanding.

Amendment No. 3 would operate as a surreptitious destruction of the classified civil service in this city. The present language of the charter in regard to the manner of removing or discharging employees is as follows: "No officer or employee in the classified civil service of the city, other than an unskilled laborer employed by the day, shall be removed or discharged except for cause upon written charges, and after an opportunity to be heard in his own defense. Such charges shall be publicly investigated by the Board of Police Commissioners in the case of an officer or employee in the police department; by the Board of Fire Commissioners in the case of an officer or employee in the fire department; and by the Board of Civil Service Commissioners in all other cases. If the board conducting such investigation shall find that sufficient cause is shown therefor, it shall order that such officer or employee be removed or discharged, such finding and decision shall be final, and, except in the case of an officer or employee in the police or fire department, shall be certified to and be forthwith enforced by the appointing board or officer."

Instead of the foregoing language, the "reformers" who are at present in control of all commissions, boards and officers having the power of appointment propose to substitute by the adoption of Amendment No. 3 a return to the old spoils system. Under that system any appointive power who for political or other reasons wishes to remove a civil service employee, in conformity with this proposed amendment, may forthwith "remove or discharge" him or her, thus putting the burden of reinstatement on such employee and without giving such employee "an opportunity to be heard in his own defense" or providing that "such charges shall be publicly investigated." An investigation by a commission controlled by the administration in power might mean very little as to the justice or injustice of the removal of such employee.

Whether Amendment No. 3 is an inadvertent destruction of civil service rules or a "nigger in the fence" The Times does not venture to say. The crowning glory of the proposed charter amendments is Amendment No. 15, which provides that the city may "publish, sell and distribute a newspaper." The public will await with eagerness and anxiety the first issue of the proposed hebdomadal—or will it be a daily? And, if a daily, will it drive all the other morning papers from the field or precipitate our esteemed evening cotemporaries into bankruptcy? The name of the Fifteenth Amendment newspaper is not suggested. It might be called "The Angels' Record," or "Voice of the Salaried," or the "Official Bazaar." If its editorial staff shall consist of the Mayor and the members of the council it will surely be a literary wonder whose ravages in the domain of orthography, syn-

rate's chorus in the novel of Treasure Island—

"Fifteen patches on the city's breeches. Ye have, ho, and a bottle of rum."

Seriously, what the city needs is not a tattered and patched and repatched and patched over the patches charter, but a new, clean, brief, easily-comprehended organic law that will serve as a guide for the enactment of wise and needed ordinances and operate as a check on foolish and experimental legislation. In the present state of the public mind it is probably not to be hoped that the proposed amendments will be defeated, and all that The Times expects to accomplish by this article is to place on record its opposition to a pending public bill.

A NEW NATIONAL CONSTITUTION.

The action of the United States Senate in defeating by four votes the proposed constitutional amendment to change the mode of electing United States Senators may be regretted if, as is possible, it shall furnish an excuse and an opportunity for a general revision of the Federal organic law.

If the Legislatures of two-thirds of the States shall join in demanding a national constitutional convention Congress must call one.

A resolution calling for such a convention has been introduced in the New York Legislature now in session. Other Legislatures will doubtless follow. A spirit of unrest abroad. We are in the formative era of a new political epoch and what will be the outcome no man can predict. If a national convention shall be called it may do away with the Constitution of the fathers altogether and substitute an organic law that shall reflect not sober and considerate doctrines of government, but the passing passions and fads of the day.

It will be well for the members of the Legislatures of California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Wyoming, Colorado and Montana, now in session, to think twice before voting for a national constitutional convention. If such a convention shall be called, its membership will probably be based numerically upon the present membership of the lower house of Congress. In such event the States above named would have but twenty-four members altogether, while the Northwestern States of Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas would have but twenty-nine members. The Middle Western States of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois and Minnesota would have ninety-one members; the New England States would have twenty-nine members, and the Southern States would have 159 members.

If it were not that an amended Constitution would have to be ratified by thirty-two States it is probable that in changing the article relating to United States Senators so as to provide for elections by the people, provision would be made for basing Senatorial as well as lower house representation upon population, but, as such a plan would reduce the Senatorial representation of twenty-two out of forty-eight States either actually or proportionally, it is not probable that it would be adopted.

Yet, might it not be possible for a national convention to frame a Constitution so as to dispense with its ratification by States and provide for ratification by popular majorities? The Times does not attempt to answer that question. Its constitutional lawyer is not able to grapple with it at present and it submits it humbly to its learned and wise cotemporaries.

That a national convention would deal with other matters than the election of United States Senators might be expected. The Southern States might combine with New York and the Middle West and rescind the Fifteenth Amendment. It is a dead letter in the cotton States, anyhow. The Ku-Klux Klan has gone out of existence—ex-gro has been practically eliminated in the South as a political factor.

A national convention might discard the document fashioned by the fathers a century and a quarter ago and refashion this government according to latter-day megrims. It might give us the initiative, the referendum and the recall in Federal as well as in State government, so that the people could get rid of Justices of the Circuit Courts and the Supreme Court of the United States who made unpopular decisions. It might provide for the adoption of Bryan's plan of a National Commissioner of Trusts who would invite Democratic and insurgent Republican-governed trusts to the government cream pot and would bowstring, sack and drown all others. It might authorize the enactment of a national marriage and divorce law that would make the streets of Reno look like those of Goldsmith's deserted village and would cause Nat Goodwin to be immune from future matrimonial infelicities.

With a national convention composed of Democrats, insurgents and socialists we would have occasion to repeat the medieval prayer "God keep the land From the spoilers hand."

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.
A certain man infests our town who views all falsehoods with a frown. He never has, since early youth, dished up a word that wasn't truth. From his chaste lips, in cat-racts, there comes a ceaseless flow of facts, and all his facts are stale and old, and make full mien his truth, till all the folks are sad and sore, and he's been dubbed the Village Bore.

A cheerful liar lives in town, who throws the truth and holds it down; of course he is a bad, bad man, constructed on a sinful plan, but when he would some yarn commence, he always has an audience. I never yet could understand why truth, throughout this pleasant land, is held a solemn, gloomy thing that should our winching bosoms wring. It's cheerless as an epitaph; few men will tell the truth and laugh; and that, perhaps, is why the wise have such a lurking love for lies.

A VITAL DUTY.

Before a girl of the more fortunate classes goes out into society, she must be protected in some way or another. If she be, for instance, convent bred, or if she come from an ideal home, it may very well be and often is that she needs no instruction whatever, because she is, in fact, already made unapproachable by the temper. Fortunately, indeed, is such a girl. But those forming this well-guarded class are few, and parents and guardians may often be deceived and assume more than they are entitled to. At any rate, for the vast majority of girls some positive instruction is necessary. It is the mother who must undertake this responsible and difficult task before she admits the girl to the perils of the world. Further, by some means or other, instruction must be afforded for the ever-increasing army of girls who go out to business. It is to me a never-ceasing marvel that loving parents, devoted to their daughters' welfare, should fail in this cardinal and critical point of duty, so constantly as they do.—(Dr. C. W. Saleeby, in the March Forum.)

THE WRONG CUE.

"Are you in favor of woman suffrage?" she asked.
"Oh, yes! Enthusiastically," he replied.
"Now, I wish you would tell me why you think women ought to forget their children and their household duties and get out into the world to mix up in political affairs. If you know of any good reason—"
"Good heavens! I beg your pardon. I merely said I was in favor of it to avoid arguing with you. Can't a man be safe on any side any more?"

Just when a fellow begins to think the business couldn't possibly go on without him, he gets fired.—Puck.

BANKING POWER OF THE UNITED STATES.

BY WALTER J. BALLARD.

According to the latest report of Lawrence O. Murray, Comptroller of the Currency, the banking power of the United States, including its island possessions, as indicated by the volume of capital, surplus deposits and circulation, is over $21,000,000,000 possessed by 27,263 banks.

Deposits $15,859,582,644
Capital 1,957,138,888
Surplus 1,980,822,285
Circulation 675,822,565

Total banking power $21,049,244,383

On the basis of a 25 per cent. reserve this gives the banks of the country the ability to be doing more than $15,000,000,000 of business in loans and quick investments at any one time, meaning, of course, a very much larger turn-over as business demands. Even if done on a ninety-day turn-over, the yearly volume of loans would exceed $60,000,000,000, or twice the yearly volume of the entire internal business of the country. But very much of the country's bank loaning is done on a shorter than ninety-days turn-over, bringing more frequent interest payments, the use again of which provides still more accommodation for the business of the country.

The total banking power is in use by:
State banks, trust companies, etc. $12,553,695,826
National banks 7,868,360,949
Non-reporting banks 627,187,608

Total $21,049,244,383

During the past decade the growth in number and volume of the business of the banking institutions of the country has been especially marked. Note the items of number, capital and individual deposits in 1900 and the ten years since:

Year.	Number.	Capital.	Deposits.
1900 ..	13,977	$1,150,728,675	$7,688,986,450
1902 ..	16,156	1,240,169,416	9,583,315,778
1903 ..	18,220	1,474,328,512	10,062,215,985
1904 ..	18,844	1,473,904,674	10,448,545,990
1905 ..	19,910	1,539,830,380	11,786,321,316
1906 ..	21,396	1,640,649,186	12,628,927,665
1907 ..	22,987	1,783,226,179	13,654,535,348
1908 ..	25,069	1,832,805,208	13,270,500,000
1909 ..	25,512	1,855,987,368	14,425,223,164
1910 ..	27,263	1,857,138,888	15,859,582,644

Note how well the banks held their own in deposits in the panic years 1907 and 1908 while the number and capital they actually increased each year. Those facts speak eloquently and convincingly of the inherent soundness of American business and of the ability and integrity of the bankers of the United States.

The immensity of the total of yearly transactions of our banks is realized when we learn that in 1910 that total was $169,025,172,600 and $158,877,192,100 in 1909; or in 1910 more than eight times, and in 1909 nearly eight times the total banking power of the country.

On June 30, 1910, 23,095 of the 27,263 banks made the following showings:

Resources—
Loans and discounts $12,521,800,000
Bonds and securities 4,723,400,000
Cash 1,423,800,000
Aggregate resources of all kinds 22,450,000,000
Individual deposits 15,283,400,000
Surplus of resources over deposits 7,166,600,000
Capital 1,830,000,000
Surplus and undivided profits 1,952,500,000
Surplus exceeded capital by 72,600,000

Could any stronger showing be expected—enough to pay all the deposits and $7,000,000,000 more. Between April 28, 1909, and June 30, 1910, the assets of these 23,095 banks increased by $1,355,360,102.

On June 30, 1910, 19,194 of the country's banks had 16,399,164 savings depositors and 11,580,378 other depositors, or nearly 25,000,000 depositors in all.

The increase in national bank resources in 1910 over 1908 was $1,355,360,000, against $1,247,900,000 increase in deposits, a gain in security to the depositors in the year of $107,460,000.

THINKING THEMES.

BY DR. FRANK CRANE.

The world has long labored under the delusion that belief is something that is produced by reason; that it is something ground out of a logic-mill; that it is the result of examining evidence. As a matter of fact, what we really believe has little or nothing to do with our intellectual conclusions. Belief is a peculiar liquor that exudes from practice. It is the juice of what we do. It is that condition of the mind and heart that results from the performances of the will. Teachers, preachers, institutions and the whole earth ignore this truth, though it is plain as the nose on one's face. It is they who do the Ten Commandments that believe in them. They who love believe in love. The virtuous believe in virtue. Worshipers believe in God. The industrious believe in industry. As for them that say they believe in what they do not practice, they simply use the wrong word, they fancy, they conceive, they do not believe. Giving intellectual assent to a thing is not belief, nor like it. Our real creed lies deep in the subconsciousness. It is the deposit of the volitional stream that passes through the mind.

The United States does not go to church as much as did the middle ages, but we have a deal more faith in what the church is supposed to stand for—Righteousness. Bagehot says that "Medieval Christianity was occupied largely in fighting and even dying for principles which it was utterly careless about putting into practice."

A PARABLE.

"Why does a hen cross the road?"
"Common sense," answered Mrs. Minona Fitts Jones, suffragist leader and president of the Woman's Suffrage party of Illinois. "A fool rooster would stand in the middle of it and let an automobile hit him."

The rooster resembles man in almost every respect, she said. She supported the theory of Prof. Laughlin of the University of Chicago that modern woman is "hen minded." She considers it a compliment to women.

"Have you ever noticed a big Shanghai rooster strutting around and crowing, his tail feathers spread out as though he owned the earth?" queried Mrs. Jones. "By accident he happens to walk too near the nest on which a little bantam hen is sitting and she suddenly climbs down from her eggs and chases him all around the barnyard. Well, that proves that a woman is the greatest warrior on earth."

"A rooster is good only for chicken salad. A hen, however, makes far better salad." Here are a few other qualities said by Mrs. Jones to be possessed by the average hen:

She is the greatest money-maker on earth. She has more executive ability than any other creature.

Her mind is inventive.

She constantly is industrious.

She can reason the relation of cause and

Events in Local Society

Miss Gladys Harberd,
in whose honor a merry surprise was given.

APT. AND MRS. J. C. DRAKE of No. 215 South Hoover street, will be the first to entertain for the val officers, and plans for their dinner party Friday evening, are elaborate. Admiral and Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Harberd will be present as special guests. There will be covers twenty-two.

Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Anell will entertain, and this too will be elaborate.

Next, Mrs. Randolph Huntington will entertain, and this too will be elaborate. Every detail is being planned in care by the hostess, who has had a number of friends to assist in entertaining.

One Again. Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Wiles, who have been visiting in the Imperial Valley of Texas, have returned to Los Angeles and are domiciled at the Edgewater.

Visitors Honored. The dearest of pink carnations arranged in baskets characterized the luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. Joseph Miller at her home, No. 1605 14th Avenue street, in honor of Mrs. Wilbur Pitt and Mrs. Stephan Strand, who are guests from Chicago. Covers were laid for fifteen.

Hotel Alexandria. Mrs. L. Isaac of No. 923 Lake street, hostess yesterday afternoon, at a bridge party given in the banquet room of Hotel Alexandria, which was aglow with pink flowers and ferns, quilts were used in beautifying the room where tea was served.

Receives. Mrs. W. J. Bertrand of No. 946 Lake street, will be at home to friends Saturday afternoon from 3 to 6. In receiving Mrs. Bertrand will be assisted by Mrs. J. H. Fairchild, Miss Christine Winneper, Can., and Miss Des Brisley Vancouver, B. C.

An Exit to Entertain. Miss Olive E. Hall will preside this afternoon at a pretty affair given for Helen Dickinson, whose engagement to Jay Booth was announced earlier in the season.

Guest Surprise. Complimentary to Miss Gladys W. Harberd of No. 2208 South Union avenue, her friends entertained with a surprise party in celebration of her birthday anniversary. Music and dancing was enjoyed, and later an elaborate collation was served. Miss Harberd who is a gifted musician, contributed selections.

Deming Honored. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Deming, Jr. were honored at an informal dinner given by Miss E. B. Crossley at home, No. 1742 West Sixth street. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Deming, Mrs. Helen Marlborough, Mrs. Marjorie Crossley and Joseph Blitzy. Mr. and Mrs. Will Wyatt complimented Mr. and Mrs. Deming who have just returned from their first tour, with a dinner at Levy's. Beautiful flowers and ferns ornamented the table.

Back From Mexico. Mrs. C. E. Payne and daughter, Miss Edgard, have returned from the city of Mexico where they were guests of Mrs. Payne's brother and sister, Mrs. C. E. Hudson, for three months. Mrs. Payne and daughter are home to friends at the Burlington.

Engagement Announced. Announcement is made of the betrothal of Miss Edith Cole of San Diego to Capt. Earl M. Garland, U. S. A. The wedding will be solemnized in June.

Reverend Dinner. Mr. and Mrs. August Rothe of Burlington avenue entertained with a dinner party recently at a courtesy to Mr. A. Mrs. John Luckenbach, who will be soon for an extended tour. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. R. L. H. Mr. and Mrs. W. P. O'Meara, and Mrs. M. J. Garry and Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Rothe.

At Washington. An enjoyable luncheon of recent date was given at Hotel Mt. Washington by Mrs. Frank Lecouvreur for the ladies of the El Hagar Club. The Fitzgerald, Mrs. Del Valle, Mrs. Nash, Mrs. Collins, Miss McCarthy, Mrs. Owens, Mrs. Hurley, Mrs. Cressy, Mrs. Herlihy, Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Ketter, Mrs. Reilly and Mrs. Keller.

Another Engagement. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beverstock have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Zala Pearl, to Eugene Clarence Bowen, Jr. The news was told at a luncheon given for a bridge club to which the young bride-elect belongs. Yellow acacia blossoms were employed in decorating, also streamers of yellow satin ribbon and strings of gold hearts. Gilded baskets and gold-winged cupid mounted on ice pedestals were given as favors. Tiny envelopes contained the secret. The bride-to-be is a graduate of the Girls' Collegiate School and is a member of the Friday Afternoon Club.

Assisted by Niece. Mrs. H. E. Church of No. 146 Kingsley drive, assisted by her niece, Mrs. Goerlich, recently of St. Louis, entertained with a luncheon last week. The decorations were suggestive of Washington's birthday, and were pretty and artistic. The fun was shared by Mrs. E. S. Lockwood, Mrs. C. C. Noble, Mrs. Ray Sperry, Mrs. J. C. Knudson, Mrs. A. J. Enright, Mrs. G. Max Webster, Mrs. Ernest Wallace, Mrs. George Eno, Mrs. F. M. Browne, Mrs. W. W. Weller, Mrs. J. Campbell, Mrs. H. B. Tuttle, Mrs. W. A. Brown, Mrs. H. G. Wagner, Mrs. J. A. Stodel, Mrs. B. F. Hendee, Mrs. J. E. Sherlock, Mrs. J. C. Chesmer, Mrs. Daisy Jacobs of New Haven, and Miss Eulalie Schiffman of Long Beach. The afternoon was passed playing "500," prizes having been captured by Mrs. Ray Sperry and Mrs. Wagner.

To Tour Europe. Mrs. M. A. Newmark and her daughter, Miss Frances, of No. 357 South Alhambra street, will leave on the 29th inst. for an extended tour to Europe. They will sail from New York on the Hamburg-American line steamship Cincinnati, for Gibraltar, Algiers, Naples and Genoa.

Visiting Here. George Thompson, owner of the St. Paul Pioneer Press and the St. Paul Dispatch, who is passing the winter in California, with his family and several friends, will be the guest of H. F. Brown, millionaire mine owner, at a luncheon this noon at the Alexandria Hotel.

Voyage of Adventure. Phil Norton, who recently took part in the Polytechnic High School play, "Antigone," left Tuesday for an extended trip through Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Colorado and Nevada, where he will visit points of interest.

Immediate Relief for Sprains, Bruises, Sore Throat, Colds, Croup

Here's What One Woman Says: "I fell and sprained my arm and was in terrible pain. I could not use my hand or arm without intense suffering until a neighbor told me to use Sloan's Liniment. The first application gave me instant relief, and I can now use my arm as well as ever." — Mrs. H. B. SPRINGER, 921 Flora St., Elizabeth, N. J.

MORE PROOF. Mrs. FREDERIC HOLDEN, of 220 Merriman Ave., Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "We have found Sloan's Liniment a wonderful remedy in our home for rheumatism, cramps, sore throat. It has no equal. We know by experience."

Averill Club.
One of the oldest clubs of the city and one which has always held a warm place in the hearts of its members, and those who have once belonged to it, is the History and Current Topics class, established and for many years conducted weekly by Mrs. Anna S. Averill. Mrs. Averill has for some time been too frail to lead the work of this club personally, but she is still the leader emerita of the class. The present season the club is making a study of Chinese history. At the last meeting on Tuesday, Mrs. L. C. House, who with her husband is engaged in educational work in China, and has lived in that country for many years, gave an interesting account of their personal experience during the Boxer uprisings and of the domestic life of Chinese life.

Northfield Hall.
The new home prepared through the generosity of J. D. Hooker of this city, as a residence for girls who need help in completing their education, will be opened with a housewarming on Saturday evening. The house is located at No. 1261 Flower street; it will accommodate sixteen young women, who will pay a nominal sum weekly for the use of the house and a program will add to the pleasures of the occasion.

VETERAN JOURNALIST HERE.

Writer Who Saw More Than Fifty Years' Service on a Single Chicago Newspaper Visits Los Angeles.

With a record of more than fifty years in the newspaper business, and all of that time in the service of a single paper, the Chicago Tribune, George P. Upton, who, with his wife, is staying at the Alexandria, is one of the oldest journalists in the United States.

He started as a reporter and after two years spent in that capacity he was made correspondent and sent into the Mississippi Valley, where he followed the fortunes of several generals on the Federal side. A large part of his time was passed with the fleet of Commodore Foote on the Mississippi.

In the years following the war, Upton ranged through all of the positions in the editorial department and in time was made vice-president of the company owning the paper, he having obtained a substantial interest in the organization.

Upton's name is perhaps best known as one of the foremost statistical writers in the United States. He has statistical knowledge of the entire world at his fingers' tips. He has written a number of well-known critical works on music and musicians of the world. Many of them have been his close intimate friends.

At the conclusion of his fifty years' service, Upton has resigned from active participation in the management of the Tribune. Speaking of the strike of printers on the Chicago papers, Upton declared that a few unjust demands from the union organizations will put all of the papers on the side of the open shop.

"I have received no detailed information on the strike but," he said, "judging from trouble threatened previous to my leaving Chicago I should say that the demands are absolutely unfair, the unionites asking payment from two of the papers for work which they are not doing. They have acted unfairly in not calling for the arbitration which in the past has settled every trouble the newspapers have ever had with printers—and, that within two days at the longest."

Announcement is made that a fund of between $2,000,000 and $4,000,000 is immediately available for the construction of the necessary buildings and the conduct of the graduate school work at Columbia College. The fund is composed of several donations that have been made the college.

for Uniforms.
Haven't you seen girls who were so satisfied with uniforms and brass buttons that they would actually flit
the garbage man if he happened to climb in livery?

Washing Sheel.
The woman who washes her own clothes will do well to mix a few brains with the dish water. I mean she will use herself of the best ways of making this work easy. Upon a handy shelf
she will have some good water softener.
As for the soap, she will use some other than the usual hard water like rain water.
She will also provide an "iron dish"
—a soap kettle—scraper—and a supply of such quality that she will not injure the hands. A full mop, a washing dish in water too hot to handle, will save her from ruining her hands. Then there should be a rubber mat for draining the dishes. This mat should be of a rubbery material, not of soft, clean wiping towels are essential—yet this supply is often neglected.
Thus equipped, dish washing loses its errors and becomes almost a recreation.

Lightening Up.
Have you noticed that the stores are beginning to give just a wee bit
in store for us, during the coming season?

It reminds me of the housewife, who,
some days before Christmas, gives the family just a taste of the mince meat—

Up stairways broad we lightly skip,
No longer do we fear to trip,
We gayly rush both up and down—
The "harem skirt" has come to town!

Behold us run or jump or walk,
At no high step on cars we balk,
With grace we sit, with ease we rise—
The "harem skirt" has proved a prize!

Within our closets hangs our "sheath,"
A "tube skirt" dangles underneath,
The "hobble gown" is cast aside,
The "harem skirt" is now our pride.

No more for woman's rights we cry;
No longer for a vote we sigh;
We have the liberty we sought—

FACTS FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN.

DAILY BEAUTY HINTS: Nothing so mars beauty as does a red nose. There are several natural causes for this defect; one is eating overstimulating foods, or drinking too much tea or coffee, another is wearing tight clothing. It is best to inquire into the underlying causes of the defect before trying external applications. There are simple remedies recommended for the eradication of the trouble.

The flowers that bloom in the house, have nothing to do with the "harem" skirt—at least that is what I thought when I visited the great store refrigerator of a North Spring street importing house.

Tell me of your taste in cheese and I will know the status of your civilization, wrote a celebrated epicure.

In fact to acknowledge a preference for plain, mild, cream cheese is in certain circles to set yourself down as commonplace and lacking in culture. This is true and the more aggressive the cheese correspond with editions of the "Lucky" in the rumet world, what an andriand Library is that North Spring street refrigerator! It is in a treasure house of cheeses from over the world. Cheeses in tin, in glass, in paper, in boxes, in molds, in lumps; blonde, smiling cheeses, water dark visaged cheeses looking for treason, stratagem and spoils; oily looking ones and others and a simon-line the shelves of cheese and Camembert, Parmesan, Casu Marzu, Provolone, Moliterno, Rosellio, Sardo, Gorgonzola—and so on throughout the whole vocabulary of cheeses from all parts of the earth which have gained world-wide celebrity for their products. From a locality of our own State, about Monterey, comes one of the wickedest looking cheeses of the lot—a perfect brigand in appearance, black visaged and disguised in form as though attacked in the dark coign of vantage and pumped out of its rotundity by a determined adversary. Oh, it is delightful its leering stinkiness—as such cheeses should be.

This importing house has here housed cheese, over thirty different kinds of cheeses—all strong-minded and of character. It is a matter what your special preference in this odoriferous after dinner treat, you will doubtless find it in this section.

Chopped Dish.
An entree for the dinner, I would suggest the following cheese dish. It is a one-half cup of butter and add, finally, while heating constantly, imported tin of Fromage de Brie, one-half teaspoonful imported Parmesan, one teaspoon finely cut chives, a tablespoon sherry wine or cordial, salt, and taste. Place in a small mould, cover, pack in ice and using two parts finely crushed ice, pack and let stand one hour.

High Notes of Fashion.
The new beaded sashes are very lovely. China buttons have appeared among the trimmings of the new gowns. The allover lace tunic is truly a gorgeous affair.

Hardly any lace-trimmed hat is devoid of flowers. A touch of color is frequently given by artificial flowers.

Violet mouseline de soie over pale lavender chiffon is a new and beautiful evening dress.

Distinctly this is as much of a lace season as it is a season of fringed and fringed may be plain or knotted.

WOMEN'S WORK.
WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY ROSE L. ELLERBE.

The Santa Barbara Woman's Club, Mrs. Frank McGuire, president, is completing a very attractive club home, located on Anacapa street, opposite Alameda Plaza, one of the charming parks of the city. It is a frame structure with long pergolas and contains an assembly room which will seat nearly 400, a tea-room, parlors and kitchen.

The club has a membership of 112 women and they take pride in the fact that they have raised the cost of the building, $900, entirely among themselves. This club has devoted its attention largely to civic work and municipal improvement. They inaugurated the playground movement and carried it on until the city took it over. Last year they raised $1200 to help pay for public band concerts, and they are always in the forefront in any good cause.

The Music Study Club is devoted to the study of musical composers and their compositions. Under the leadership of Mrs. Caroline Dunshee, president, they have taken up a comprehensive review of early church music, and of the oratorio, studying Handel, Mendelssohn and others. On Monday night they gave their annual concert and reception in the New Arlington, which was largely attended.

The Art Club is composed of women artists, with Mrs. Sarah Page Iverson, president. Their meetings are largely social, and they hold an annual exhibition of their own work, which is one of the events of Santa Barbara's social life.

The club women of Santa Barbara are very conservative in regard to political equality. Indeed, this city would afford an excellent field for some of the energetic suffrage workers of Los Angeles to do missionary work.

Friday Morning Club.
The Friday Morning Club announces programmes of varied interest for the month of March. On Friday of this week comes the contest to which the women of Southern California, as well as club members, are looking forward, as to the desirability of giving women the ballot. Each of the speakers represents a large class of women who are equally sincere in their convictions.

There may still be some members of the club, however, who are on the fence, and it is the effect of the morning's addresses upon these which will be watched by the partisans. On March 10, Stanley McGinnis will deal with "Real Color Photography" and illustrate the process by stereopticon views of California, the Yellowstone and Grand Canyon of Arizona. March 17, Prof. Max Friedlander of the University of Berlin, will give a lecture on "German Folk Songs as Compared with English," which was one of a course delivered at Harvard University. Here Ernest Victor Wolf will assist at the piano, and a morning of delight may be looked forward to.

"The Need of a Psychopathic Hospital in Los Angeles," which is the topic under discussion Friday, March 24, is one of immediate and pressing importance. It is to be hoped that results will follow the papers presented on this occasion. Dr. Charles L. Allen will talk on "The Need of a Psychopathic Hospital in this City." Dr. Rosa Moore will speak of "The Prevention of Insanity." Dr. Thomas J. Orin will treat of "The Method of Treating the Insane." Dr. James T. Fisher will discuss "The Manner of Commitment." Dr. H. G. Brainerd will speak on "The Law for the Insane now before the Legislature," and Dr. Elizabeth Kearney will deal with "The Woman Physician in the Care of the Insane."

Prof. Gayley of Berkeley will tell of "The Idols of Education," March 31, the paper to be followed by a discussion.

Congress of Mothers.
The Congress of Mothers and the parent-teacher associations of the city hold their regular monthly session Thursday in Symphony Hall, Blanchard building. The morning will be devoted to business, reports and discussion. At 2 p. m. a programme to which all parents are invited will be presented. Miss Edna Latinsky will play a piano solo; the boy soprano, Vernon Lee, will sing, accompanied by John Bittner; after which Miss Frances Richardson will give her lecture on the growth and history of the American flag. This talk is illustrated by flags of different periods and forms. Vernon Lee will sing the Star Spangled Banner, and a social hour will follow.

College Woman's Club.
On Saturday, March 4, the young women of the College Woman's Club will break bread together at Mount Washington Hotel, Mrs. Mary E. Hart being a guest. The luncheon will be quite informal and after selecting a committee to nominate officers for the coming year, those of the club members who are athletically inclined will take a walk over the hills while the less energetic will enjoy progressive whist.

THE CHURCH WEDDING.
BY ELIZABETH BIDDLE.
When a wedding ceremony takes place at a church, the ushers should be on hand about three-quarters of an hour before the guests are expected.

Each usher is provided with a list of the names of the guests for whom he is to be reserved. A white ribbon or rope of flowers should be stretched across the aisle, beyond which the pews are reserved for the families and friends of the bride and groom.

Just before the entrance of the bride party the bride's mother and her family enter the church. The head usher should escort the bride's mother to her seat in the front pew on the left hand side of the church, and the remaining members of the bride's party should be escorted by some of the other ushers.

The head usher should escort the bride's mother to her seat in the front pew on the left hand side of the church, and the remaining members of the bride's party should be escorted by some of the other ushers.

The bridesmaids and maid of honor should assemble at the home of the bride about fifteen minutes before the time set for the departure of the bride party for the church. A bride should make every effort to be ready to leave the house at the time set for the departure of the bride party for the church.

At the foot of the chancel, the ushers break ranks, one-half of the number going to the right and the other half to the left. The bridesmaids follow in the same manner. The maid of honor goes to the left of the bride; the best man stands at the right of the groom.

At the foot of the chancel steps the bride slips her hand from her father's arm and puts it into the right hand of the groom, who has advanced to meet her.

The bride's father remains directly behind his daughter until the moment of giving her away. When the clergyman says, "Who giveth this woman, etc., he advances between the bride and the groom, and taking his daughter's right hand, lays it in the hand of the groom, as he says, "I do." He then joins his wife and family in the front pew.

When the ring is to be placed on the third finger of the bride's left hand, she either removes her glove, or slips off the glove finger, which has been ripped from the tip to the knuckle at one seam.

The maid or matron of honor, holds the bride's hand from the time she is placed on the altar until the final blessing is spoken.

After the blessing, the bride turns and placing her left hand on the arm of her husband, they advance down the aisle, followed by the maid of honor, the bridesmaids, and the ushers.

The best man leaves the chancel by the side door, and the bride and groom, and his bride at the entrance to the church, where he hands the groom his hat, and sees that the newly wedded couple are safely ensconced in their carriage.

When a bride is to be given away by her mother, she does not walk up the aisle with her mother, but usually with a man who is a distant relative, or some old friend of her mother's or father's.

When the clergyman asks who gives her away, the mother should rise and then bow her acquiescence or, she may step out of the pew and stand near her daughter, bowing her acquiescence, and then returning to the pew.

After the church ceremony, the bride and groom go to the home of the bride's parents, and there receive the congratulations of both families and their friends.

The parents of the bride usually stand near the entrance door of the reception room.

The bride and bridesmaids, stand at the back of the room, before a screen of palms, ferns and flowers; and the ushers move about among the guests, introducing strangers to the bride and groom, and offering refreshments to those who have presented their congratulations to the happy pair.

A groom should play the part of host to a best man who has come from another city.

If the groom carries his hat and gloves as he enters the church, he gives them to his best man just before he goes to meet his bride; he then either accepts them before he walks down the aisle with his bride, or waits until he is about to enter the carriage in which they drive away.

MODERN HAIR DRESSING
has played havoc with the tresses of fair sex, and druggists everywhere comment on the fact that they are selling large quantities of sage for making old-fashioned "sage tea," such as used by our grandmothers for promoting the growth of their hair and storing its natural color. The drug for this well-known herb for this purpose has been so great that one manufacturer has taken advantage of the fact, and placed on the market an "ideal" sage containing sulphur, a valuable remedy dandruff and scalp rashes and irritations. This preparation, which is called Wye Sage and Sulphur, is sold by all leading druggists for 50c and 75c a bottle.

Wire to Extend Over Twenty Miles.

Protection.
An end for all time to the disease of Mexican stock raisers, in their disease-infected cat-tles, and American herds, the Federal Government has commenced the erection of a barbed wire fence along the international boundary. It will extend the Pacific Ocean to the Otay rivers, a distance of twenty miles.
Lines of barbed wire will provide an impenetrable barrier to the disease, and aid the great work
of the United States Animal Industry Bureau for the protection of livestock diseases.
The barbed strands will reach eight feet above the ground. There will be one mile apart, which will be of care of their animal property, hence innumerable diseases
are communicated.
According to Dr. MacKellar, some diseases found among Mexican cattle are almost instantaneous in their effect. Cases have been known where a stray Mexican herd would become infected with American longhorns.
Following morning several of the would fall to rise. The stock Americans in the border country have been exceedingly heavy, and the wire fence is welcomed by the people who will ascend heights, and into the deepest gulches. Not along the entire twenty miles will be left for riders to work employees of the Animal Industry Bureau commenced the erection of the fence yesterday. It is believed that at least six months will be needed to finish the job.

WATER PLANT FOR PACKERS.

INCREASE CAPACITY OF HANFORD CANNERY.

Output of the Establishment Will Be Augmented About Fifty Percent by the Introduction of New Machinery—Distributors of Up in Arms Over Ordinance.

Correspondence of The Times.
HOFORD, March 1.—It is stated that D. B. Pressler of the local
of the California Fruit Cannery company, that machinery has already been ordered, that will, when
in, within a few weeks, increase capacity of the cannery here fully fifty per cent. A new sixty-horse-power boiler and topping device are being put in the new equipment.
The plant had a long run,
being an average daily working of 250, with the number sometimes running up to 600, and the overalling the rush season sometimes
into five and six hours a day.
The plant is paid out annually by the company to the Kings county growers for Charles E. Lewis, who for two years has been foreman, has accepted
of the new plant, and his successor here
has not yet been selected.

HOT OPPOSITION.

Subscribers of milk here are up in arms against the new milk sales ordinance passed by the Trustees, to become effective the 15th inst. The ordinance provides for rigid inspection of all milk, and the dealers, who are of the opinion that the new regulation is too strict and are apt to be of the excessive expense exposed to the dealers, are in a state of hot opposition to the ordinance.
The ordinance was introduced by the City Trustees, but the latest of the ordinance was drafted and will be thrashed out, and it is believed that the Board of Health will allow a liberal construction of the ordinance, and there will be no famine in Hanford.

PORTERVILLE WILL SHOW.

Exposition to Have Display of Fruit and Pacific Land Products
in Los Angeles.
Correspondence of The Times.
PORTERVILLE, March 1.—Despite the fact that A. E. Mott, secretary of the county Board of Trade, has declined to let the county exhibit
at the Pacific Land and Products Exposition in Los Angeles,
through his efforts has secured a display in the Visalia Board of Trade is to have a showcase of the Chamber of Commerce
last evening, at the call of President of the original plan for Porterville and Visalia to rent space, throw them into one districts of Tulare county. Visalia refused to go in after the recommendation against it by Mott, and Lindsay has on hand other publicity enterprises, which will use up its available funds. Porterville has decided to go it alone, and at the meeting held last evening, committees to collect fruit suitable for an orange showing were appointed. This is the off season in the orange market in Porterville and securing oranges and pomelos will be the most difficult thing in connection with the work.

Buy for Subdivision.

EXETER, March 1.—This community has already experienced an effect from incorporation. There was recorded yesterday the sale of the Snodgrass vineyard, at edge of the original townsite, but included within the limits of the incorporation, the thirty acres of property being bought by local investors for $22,500. It is the purpose of the purchasers to immediately survey the property for subdivision into town lots.

field is president of the Litchfield Shuttle Company of Southbridge, Mass.,
and is on his way to Honolulu.

THE RAILROAD WORLD.

Extravagance in the payments made to the railroads for handling the mails
as well as in other expenses of the postal service, is charged in an article appearing in the current number of Engineering Contracting, which compares the "efficiency of operation" of the Postoffice Department with statistics of express companies of the United States as contained in the first annual report of express companies
published recently by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Before the appearance of this report
an estimate was made that it is costing the government not less than two and probably more than four times as much per ton of mail as it is costing the express companies. This was an estimate based on incomplete express company data and involving an assumption as to the weight of the average express packages.

Now, with the exact average cost of handling, transportation, etc., it is figured that it costs the express companies only $28 per ton of express matter as compared with the $325 per ton
that it costs the government to handle
and transport the mails.

The government performs a service
roughly comparable with the service

ment more than eleven times per ton
what it costs the express companies.
Furthermore, the government pays the railway companies $75 per ton for transporting the mails, whereas the express companies pay the same railways less than $15 per ton.
By the tabulation of figures it is shown that the expenses of "rail transportation" for mail are eight times as great as for express, and the expenses of collecting, delivering, etc., are fifteen times as great for mail as for express. The total expense for mail is nearly eleven and one-half times as great as for express.

The year's record of the Harriman lines, which in 1910, recorded not a single fatal accident, has been broken
by the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric Railroad, according to the official record, who set forth that during the thirteen years' life of that road not a single fatal accident has resulted from its operation. During that period, according to Mr. Downs, between 75,000,000 and 100,000,000 passengers were carried. "I do not think there is another railroad in America, either team or electric, which has been in operation the same length of time or carried the same number of people that can set a record as clean as this one," he said.

W. M. Acworth of London, a recognized authority upon railroad economics, has just returned to England from a 10,000-mile tour, studying American railways. "There is not the slightest doubt," he says, in an interview, "that American railroads are working on a much more economical system than the English. The English railway companies neglect opportunities for saving money, and the Americans seize." One reason given for this is "that they deal with the whole system, while the English deal only with the railroad. The whole permeates American life. For instance, you can ride twenty miles on a street car for 5 cents and you pay a dollar if you take a cab to cross the road. That method saves innumerable small sums, and so in the end a big sum on the railways."
He also says that to meet the requirements of expanding traffic, their facilities must be increased at least 50 per cent. Every ten years. Traffic has substantially doubled every decade.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company has offered to release to the State of New Jersey the Morris Canal which has proved a serious expense to the railroad company for many years. The Lehigh Valley Railroad, prior to 1870,
having no line in New Jersey, leased
the canal in 1871 to provide competition with—and thereby compel equitable treatment from—the Central Railroad
of New Jersey, which was the Lehigh Valley's only eastern connection. But the canal was powerless to compete with a railroad, and the Lehigh Valley
was forced to construct its own line across New Jersey from Phillipsburg to Perth Amboy, which line was opened for business in 1875. Later the line was extended from South Plainfield to Jersey City.

In the forty years since 1871 the railroad company, in operating the property and assuming the canal company's obligations, has paid out $10,578,670
more than it has taken in from the earnings of the canal. The receipts are enough to pay the boatmen's wages.

Contracts for $3,000,000 of construction work on the North Coast to third division, of the Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation lines, between Spokane and the Snake River, reducing the distance between Portland and Spokane fifty-four miles, making this line the shortest between the two cities,
will be let within a few days with the stipulation that they be completed before the end of 1912.

The Pennsylvania Railroad is making improvements to its shops at Altoona, Pa., which when completed will enable the shops to have a capacity of five locomotives a day. The last of the tenty-four electric locomotives for the Hudson River tunnel are being turned out at these shops.

OPPOSED TO RECIPROCITY.

Director of Canadian Steel Company
Now Here, Asserts Manufacturing Interests Not Looking for It.

"The Canadian people, as a whole,
are opposed to reciprocity with the United States," declared Charles Alexander, director and one of the principal stockholders of the Steel Company of Canada, a corporation owning many factories and bonded for many millions.

"A few farmers and a few men holding large timber claims through the Northwest and the central part of Canada, approached Laurier and members of the Canadian Parliament and have succeeded in making the reciprocity part with the English a feature of the present campaign," declared Alexander, who is at the Van Nuys, where he has his home.

"The manufacturing interests of Canada are not looking for reciprocity.
They cannot afford it for the simple reason that they cannot as yet compete favorably with a number of United States manufacturers under a free trade agreement. Under the present system, the Canadian manufacturers are able to sell their goods for just a fraction less than most of the United States competitors, and this has helped to build up the industries of the country."

"This phase of the situation has been properly gauged by a number of the Parliamentarians, and it is doubtful whether the reciprocity treaty, when it is finally arranged, will cover many objects, particularly any outside of absolute raw material."

Arising Over the Family Dog.

Deputy District Attorney Keetch is issuing a complaint yesterday for Guy Patterson, a deputy constable, who is said to have mistreated Mrs. Mary Shaw while she was sick at her home on Ruth avenue, Tuesday.

According to the story told by William Hudson, the woman's 13-year-old son, Patterson became angry because the dog had been running in his yard, Patterson is a neighbor of the Shaws
and they are said to have had several

NEITHER SIDE GIVES AN INCH.

Highway Engineer Controversy Still in the Air.

Efforts Fail at Adjustment Behind Closed Doors.

Road Building Must Continue Says Commission.

The dove of peace hovered over the warring factions in charge of highway improvements yesterday but failed to alight. Further efforts will be made to settle it. At present it appears that the proper kind of halt is not procurable.

Not to be outdone by the Board of Supervisors, which held an executive session for the Highway Commission at the Courthouse Tuesday, the latter body entertained in its quarters in the International Bank Building yesterday.

The session which was long, was held behind closed doors. It became known, however, that strenuous efforts were made to reach an amicable settlement, in order to insure the progress of road building.

The commissioners refused to recede from their stand behind Chief Engineer Loder. The Supervisors resented faith in Engineer Joyner. Working on this basis, a solution which would be satisfactory to both sides was sought for.

The commissioners declared that nothing should be permitted to stand in the way of the rapid construction of the roads. They declared that most of the trouble was caused by a misunderstanding on the part of Joyner when he submitted his scathing report on Loder.

TAKING LODER'S FIRE. In fact, Joyner was accused of having stolen Loder's fire in many respects and made capital of it. The one feature of Joyner's criticism which rankles most in the breasts of the commissioners is the fact that he accused "jump sum" bids and the Supervisors agree with him. Loder declared nearly a year ago that the most successful way of getting work done was on the unit system, and was promptly sat upon.

Joyner's letter to the Supervisors will be answered in every respect by a communication from the Highway Commission which will be filed Monday. Alleged mistakes of Loder which he is said to have made, will be pointed out.

However, the commission will not concede that Loder is wrong in the specifications which he drafted for two of the most important thoroughfares. In this respect, the members refuse to move.

OPINION UNALTERABLE. The majority of the Supervisors do not fancy Loder, and are said to have promised the commissioners reappointment, if they would agree to his dismissal. They are so determined in their views it is not likely that they will compromise on anything which will in any way vindicate him.

"The commissioners are going to remain in office until their terms expire in July, and are going to endeavor to be true to their trust," said Chairman Bixby last night. "They are going to do all within their power to advance the progress of road improvement. We feel it is our duty to the taxpayers to give them the best roads we can and as quickly as possible."

"However, we must retain our respect as men in searching for a settlement of the present difficulty. It is my hope that things can be arranged satisfactorily in private."

"I believe it is safe to predict that the construction of roads will not be stopped. There is too great a duty to the public on those whose duty it is to construct these roads to permit anything to come in the way of road improvements."

"The law has divided the responsibility of constructing the roads on the Supervisors and the commission. This arrangement was made for the purpose of having one body to check on the other. It is possible for a deadlock to be created but I do not believe that such will be the result."

THE CHIEF CRITICISM. "We commissioners have faith in Mr. Loder and are back of him. However, we are not adverse to accepting Mr. Joyner's suggestions. The Supervisors had a right to employ him as an adviser if they so desired. Mr. Loder is willing to accept his views, but reserves the right to his own opinions. As a matter of fact, an investigation shows that the chief criticism of Mr. Joyner was based on a matter where his ideas and those of Mr. Loder were identical."

No more star chamber sessions are scheduled for this week, but it is likely that there will be another informal meeting of the Supervisors and the commission. An executive session will be held before the highway report is submitted in open meeting next Monday.

LYING UP BEE CLUBS. County Organizations May Affiliate With State Association and Convention Refers Matter to a Committee.

The question of affiliating the county bee clubs into the California State Beekeepers' Association, took up the major portion of the convention yesterday. Details of the plan were finally left to a committee, which is given full power to carry out any feasible plan in this direction.

Several papers and addresses were read between the hot arguments on pertinent topics. J. M. Elliott, president of the First National Bank, spoke on "Honey as a Negotiable Security," and said that "this product is one of the easiest in the State to borrow money on. 'Banks will loan from 60 to 70 per cent of the full value of the honey, knowing that it is salable at a good figure at any time of the year, in any part of the United States," he declared. "It is a non-perishable product when considered as a holding of two or three years, and therefore is a safe proposition for any bank to loan money on when proper warehouse receipts can be shown."

The matter of a selling organization following the line of distributing associations of the Southwest, was left in the hands of a committee to be reported on at the next annual conference.

E. G. Burdick was re-elected president, and A. B. Schaffner, secretary-treasurer of the association. The members elected to the executive board are: M. H. Mendelson of Ventura; J. W. Ferree of Newhall, and Prof. Ralph Thompson of the State University.

pretty young pupil of the Egan School, who has been chosen by John Cort for an important role in Mrs. Carter's play of next year.

SHE'S ONE HAPPY GIRL.

Ruth Gartland, Pupil of Egan School. Chosen for Big Company by John Cort—Medal Given.

Ruth Gartland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gartland, would like to enter a contest for "the happiest girl in Los Angeles."

Miss Gartland is a pupil of the Egan Dramatic School, Hamburger Majestic Theater building, and when the institution was visited the other day by the new theater Napoleon, John Cort, this manager of seven hundred playhouses was so pleased with the young girl's work that he immediately engaged her for an important role in Mrs. Leslie Carter's company next year.

In September Mrs. Carter is to become a Court play. She will play "The Transformation," a brilliant emotional drama of modern Paris, and Miss Gartland is already cast in the mind of Mr. Cort for one of the important character parts.

Though Miss Gartland's father and mother at present make their home in Seattle, the young student has stuck by Los Angeles, and, according to Frank Egan, has been telling indubitably actress-ward for a whole year past.

The fact that Mr. Cort has at his command the services of the entire list of young actresses in the English-speaking world makes Miss Gartland and her instructor all the more proud of his choice.

Mr. Cort announced to the Egan pupils that he will make a point of visiting the institution once every year, and further, that he will donate the "Cort Gold Medal" to be given annually as an award for the most meritorious performance under Mr. Egan's direction.

In the school Mr. Cort observed several of the classes, and also a number of individual performances.

Persistent. FOURTH EFFORT TO BURN HOTEL.

CUNNING INCENDIARY SUCCEEDS IN STARTING FIRE.

Enters Locked Room and Applies Match to Newspaper Under Feather Mattress—Guests in Hallway See No One Enter or Leave Apartment.

The fourth attempt to burn the Hotel Melrose, at No. 130 South Grand avenue, was made late yesterday afternoon. The blaze was discovered and extinguished with a loss of about $100. When the alarm was turned in, detectives made a rigid investigation. It is said that an arrest may be made today.

The latest fire was started in a bedroom on the first floor. A newspaper had been placed under a feather mattress and ignited. The flames spread rapidly and the room and hallway were soon filled with smoke.

The alarm was given by F. B. Schroeder, who was descending in the elevator. A line of hose was run into the building from the chemical engine and the room drenched. The furniture and woodwork in the room were destroyed, and the plaster partly knocked from the walls by the water.

This fourth fire is mysterious as the others which occurred last Monday. Although there were a number of guests in the hallway at the time, no one was seen to enter or leave the room where the blaze was started. The apartment was vacated after Monday's fires and locked up.

M. W. Kinney, proprietor of the hotel, is at a loss to know why or by whom the fires were started. He stated that the incendiary attempts have practically ruined his business and that, as he has a large sum of money invested in the hotel, the loss is great.

IS ALLEGED BANKRUPT.

Financial trouble loomed up for an oil company yesterday. A petition asking the United States District Court to adjudicate the Midway Security Oil Company an involuntary bankrupt was filed. The petitioners are the Associated Supply Company of San Francisco and the King Lumber Company of Berkeleyfield. The aggregate indebtedness is placed at $123,82. It is alleged that T. S. Kingston has recovered a judgment for $124,17 against the company, has attached its holdings and that they will soon be sold under execution.

TUNNEL FIGHT.

the big owners of sixteen solid blocks of property in the heart of our business section, located between First and Fourth and Hill and Main streets, and tells them they do not need a tunnel at all; tells them that the Fourth-street tunnel can be built for one quarter of a million in round figures; the Second street tunnel for about one-half million and the First street tunnel for something over a million, without estimating the damage to the property which would result from getting additional right of way on First street through the six story Tajo building or the City Jail and other brick buildings to the south.

"In order to bring a tunnel down to Broadway," he points out, the First street tunnel has serious problems involved, and possibly not to be overcome; gives no remedy for closing First street to Hill-street traffic; makes no estimate as to the cost of the forcing of the street car line running up First street from Broadway, nor of the damage done to the entire business section of the city by the tunneling of the street car line through the heart of the business section of the city.

"His estimates of the cost of our tunnel are based upon carrying it from Hill street to Figueroa, 185 feet of which from Hill street west and 15 feet from Figueroa east would be an open cut, saving expense, giving us a light, safe exit at each end with an eastern terminus before coming up to Second street, providing a safe place for pedestrians to scatter and others to get on and off the various street cars lines, not in the streets where they are subject to the jostle of traffic of automobiles and teams, but where there is no possible chance of injury or alarm. Your first street entrance where vehicles would be at the foot of a grade coming down Broadway where vehicles would pile over each other, where eight different street car lines are concentrated now turning the corners from every point of the compass, confronting the tunnel traffic with injury and confusion."

THE PROTESTS.

"By the protests herewith presented to your honorable body from the property holders on Hill street who object to their street being made a blind alley and to the balance of the

are opposed to the tearing up of their street-car line, who object to coming to Broadway instead of Hill to get through the tunnel, by the property holders on the west slope of the hill who will neither be able to conveniently go through the tunnel nor get back to the city by any car line without jumping off a thirty-foot embankment at First and Figueroa, or going clear around the block to enter the tunnel at its western portal, you must realize there is no chance for building a First-street tunnel. The voices of every property holder in the city of Los Angeles south of First street on both sides of Bunker Hill proclaim in one accord that the First-street tunnel from its eastern terminus to its disappearance among the hills of the west carries death, deterioration and destruction in its entire pathway, and yet its promoters have the mild manners to ask the city to pay its entire cost. Hill street could better afford to have five such fires as the Byrne disaster—Bunker Hill would be worth what her frame buildings would bring for kindling and her brick buildings $4.00 a ton—the two great avenues to the west, Figueroa street and West Second, which has recently been paved and widened at great expense, wiped off the map. The travel from the great San Fernando and Glendale valleys shortly to come in from Lakeshore avenue through Edendale, as officially suggested by the City of Glendale, an even grade, and thousands of passengers on the Glendale and San Fernando electric roads would be diverted by your First-street project two blocks, daily going and coming to the center of your city, instead of being able to pass directly through the tunnel at Second street to the heart of business in their natural course.

"If this Council desires to favor the little settlement to the north, First street for their convenience and purposes only, for goodness' sake build them a tunnel at Court street, where you will give them all a fair shake and carry it directly to their doors."

SCALLOPS DISPLEASE HER.

Woman, Defending Action Brought by Man Tailor, Points Out Defects to Court and Wins Suit.

Happenings of a sartorial nature transpired in Justice Forbes' court yesterday, when Louis Brand, a tailor, sought to collect $70 which he alleged was due him in payment for a coat made for Mrs. S. Hersh.

"But the coat doesn't fit. Your Honor," was the objection of Mrs. Hersh. "Oh, that's all right," said Brand. "I assure Your Honor it's a perfect fit."

"Measure it," said Mrs. Hersh, indignantly.

"All right," said Brand, and he stretched his tape around the plump figure of the defendant. Then he applied it to the coat.

"See, Your Honor," he cried, "it's a perfect fit, as I said."

"And I say not," exclaimed Mrs. Hersh. "I ordered a full-length coat, and this one is not long enough. It will be an outrage to make me pay for it."

"Try the coat on," suggested the court.

Mrs. Hersh squeezed herself into the garment. Plainly, it was short.

"And the bottom is not even," she asserted. "There are scallops in it."

Commission to Interview Mr. Taft.

Session May Expect Admission.

Board Increased, Voted to Boycott Phoenix.

Correspondence of The Times. PHOENIX (Ariz.) Feb. 27.—An extra session of the Arizona Territorial Board of Trade for an extra session to view the fact that action be expedited upon the application.

The commission of the Governor and Chief Justice in an attempt to canvassing the election of these are sent very prompt will reach Washington tomorrow before Congress convenes. It is thus evident that will have to go over a number, unless an extra session is now in Washington.

A delegation of about 100 of the result of the canvass with the official figures. It is the purpose to visit the ground that whatever the thing which the people should be given a hopelessness exists in the however, is indicated. The admission of Arizona is accepted, accepting the telegraphic authentic.

BOYCOTT PHOENIX. County Board of Trade has favored the grant of a new line of right-of-way from the Canyon to the South Company and has passed resolutions to the effect that all hereafter boycott Phoenix of business, despite the fact that two cities are closely connected. Seemingly with the best help Tucson will have same resolution commands, public-spirited and patriotic of the Chamber of Commerce, and it has pledged possible will be done to protect the business in this valley markets, and to assist her in the position she now holds.

Phoenix and commercial center of the valley is right to by virtue of her advanced position, great natural resources, and progressive and liberal spirit of its citizens. It is resolved that the United Office should be removed to Tucson.

DEER NEWS NOTES. Away over the top of the mountain is now ready for transport vehicle over it was the Supervising Engineer L. Heretofore traffic across the mountain has been by means of a ferry, obtained without charge by the Incidentally, the Arizona Development Board, with a stock of $500,000, has been organized for the purpose of manufacturing plaster and alabaster, and of gypsum near Phoenix. The Arizona and Eastern Railway is said that the material available is at least $1,000,000 tons, pure. At the best, the material is D. N. McLean, formerly of a national bank at Clinton, Mo., is believed that the Salt River Valley, where the material is to be used, is the orchards.

Phyllis R. Tetter of Phoenix is an "opinionless cactus," but that the spines of the old cactus are really good for the toothpicks. She has a good effect, as needles and thread, and says that the free of all the metallic resins has heretofore militated against the ordinary cactus. PHOENIX (Ariz.) Feb. 27.—The action for an extra session of the Arizona legislature is very interesting to Arizona in view of the fact that action must be expedited upon their application.
By a commission of the Governor,

club for several years.

Arizona Development Board now has the commercial bodies of Bisbee, Douglas, Flagstaff, Tucson, Phoenix, Parker, Phoenix, Prescott, Tempe, Tucson, Yuma and Kingman.

Local corporation, the Arizona Fertilizer Company, with a stock of $500,000, has been organized for the purpose of manufacturing fertilizer. The company has a plant at Yuma, and has a large tract of land in the Arizona and Eastern Railroad. It is said that the material available to it is at least $1,000,000 tons,
and that it is the largest in the west. It is believed that the company will be a success.

A new railroad is projected southward from Holbrook into an untouched
section of the Black Mesa Forest,
where there is standing the finest pine timber in the Southwest. The proposed road has been inspected by four eastern capitalists, who are said to have assured the raising of the necessary money. They visited also some coal fields in Southern Navajo county, mainly owned by residents of Prescott. These fields can be tapped without trouble by the railroad proposed. The quality of the coal is pronounced the finest in the Southwest. There is an assumption on the part of the residents of Holbrook that the line will be continued through to Globe and the only law in the matter appears to be the fact that much of the same route will be traversed by
the Southern Pacific Durango-Globe connection, which has advanced already to the stage of permanent plans.

The cold weather lately known in Northern Arizona has served to bring a large number of timber wolves out of their usual haunts. One unusually large specimen was killed a few days ago by Jack Albert, an Anita, north of Williams.

Mining along the Grand Canyon has been gradually suspended on account of snow and cold weather.

The loss of the Maier Brewing Company of Los Angeles, through a fire, which destroyed the brewery building
at Williams, February 11, amounted to about $11,000, of which about half was covered by insurance. The structure is to be rebuilt.

Louis Akin, the well-known Southwestern artist, has returned to Flagstaff, where he expects to be engaged for the next three years on an immense mural painting for the American Museum of Natural History in New York. One section of sixty-five feet will be a reproduction of the Grand Canyon, while the remaining space will be filled in with sketches of Indian and scenes of the Southwest.

Mr. Akin has established himself in a large studio, which already is well filled with studies he has gathered throughout Arizona. The task on which he is now engaged is the most ambitious he has ever attempted in this, his favorite field.

ROW OVER BUILDING SITE.
GLOBE CITIZENS DISGRUNTLED.
Special Correspondence of The Times.]
GLOBE (Ariz.) Feb. 27.—The selection
by the Treasury Department of a location for the proposed Federal Building on the corner of Hill and Sycamore streets has been met with mixed comment here. A strong sentiment declares the site inaccessible, and calls attention to the fact that it embraces a mountain "wash." The price paid was $15,000, declared inadequate for any more central location. It is now being urged that the opposition cease and that the business men get together and urge an appropriation for the erection of the building.

Something of the same sort of a row is on in Clifton, where the Board of Supervisors of the new county of Greenlee settled upon a courthouse site in Hill's addition. One of the first cases to be held in the first session of the District Court of Greenlee will be one enjoining the board from utilizing the Hill's addition site on the grounds
that the board acted in a capricious and arbitrary manner, not considering the convenience of the public, that a majority of the voters are opposed to the action of the board and that certain members of the board were personally influenced in their decision.

An interesting feature, also, is the fact that the owner of the lots settled upon is not only willing to take the price determined upon and that there seems no way in which condemnation proceedings can be called to the support of the board. It has also been brought into the public mind that when Clifton was selected as the coun-

donated to the county of Greenlee in whatever section of the town the Board of Supervisors may select."

News from Clifton tells that, "by the pressure of public opinion," a large and flourishing gambling hell has just been closed by its proprietors. The fact that the territorial law absolutely prohibits such places or practices seems to have been overlooked by the new county authorities, though the place was very generally known, its location being prominent in the Chase Creek section of the city.

Within twenty-four hours Globe has known three fires. There was a $1500 loss by a fire which started in the kitchen of the Webster House, in which most of the damage was done by smoke and water. A $1500 frame-dwelling owned by Mrs. F. X. O'Neill
in South Globe burned a few hours later, with insurance of $600. The third fire destroyed the building and stock of the Maxson Candy Company
at Broad and Cedar streets, with $2500 damage. Several adjoining buildings were somewhat damaged. Four volunteer firemen were slightly burned by electricity when they ran against a live wire.

Sheriff J. H. Thompson, familiarly known as "Rimrock," has been sued for false imprisonment, and damages in the sum of $2500 have been asked for.
His bondman, a surety company, is named as codefendant and $1500 additional is asked of it. The complainant is William Willis, former secretary of the Globe miners' union. He claims he was arrested on the night of October 4 and was held until 10:30 o'clock
without cause or warrant.

Charles F. See, of Wheatfield, has caused the arrest of his mother-in-law,
Mrs. Marjorie Beck of Globe, charging her with threats upon his life. A short time ago Mrs. Beck went to Wheatfield for the purpose of taking her daughter home with her, permanently, this purpose being carried out very effectively, in spite of the husband's opposition. C. M. Mack, late of Long Beach, Cal., has moved to Layton, where he has purchased a ranch.

PLANT WEB-FOOT INVASION.
Excursionists From Klamath Falls
Will Accompany Exhibits for the Coming Land Exposition.

Citizens of Klamath Falls, Or., are planning to descend upon the Pacific Land and Products Exposition in force with the end not only of boosting for their enterprising community, but of seeing the Southwest's wonder city.

The excursion is being arranged by the Klamath Falls Chamber of Commerce which is preparing to enter a splendid exhibit of Oregon's resources. A special car and perhaps a special train will be used by the Web-foot visitors.

San Fernando will have a splendid exhibit of the many products for which its district is famous. Fred L. Boruff, manager of the Porter ranch, is arranging the display.

H. H. Carr, president of the National Farmers' Association, with headquarters in Chicago, was a visitor at the executive offices of the exposition yesterday. "Southern California is the loveliest spot on earth," said Carr. "In fact the entire West from British Columbia to the Mexican border is a most amazing country."

"I want the middle-aged farmers of the entire Middle West to come to the land show. If they do not succumb to the lure of the sunshine as I have, they will at least find that the place for them is somewhere in the section known as Rockies. This whole coast is a revelation to easterners."

If I Had Eczema
I'd wash it away with that mild, soothing liquid, D. D. D. This recognized Eczema Remedy has wrought wonderful cures for ten years—of Eczema, Psoriasis, and all other forms of skin disease. No, you don't need to suffer another day with that awful itch, for the moment the first drops of D. D. D. are applied to the inflamed skin, the itch is stopped, yes, instantly.
D. D. D. cleanses away the impurities and clears up the complexion as nothing else can. Washes away pimples over night.

Yes, if I had Eczema or any other kind of skin trouble, I'd certainly use D. D. D.

DON'T BE TOO LATE

You will remember the old saying about procrastination being the thief of time. This is a case where this is important. We do not say this for the sake of cheap effect or to convince you against your will. You have read some of the previous announcements of THE TIMES ENCYCLOPEDIA CLUB—perhaps all of them. You have perhaps been intending to investigate the offer, but have delayed from day to day, hoping to take advantage of it at some time in the future; or else other matters have crowded even this unusual event from your mind.

NEVER AGAIN SUCH A CHANCE

Of course, this offer can never be repeated. Following the destruction of the entire plant of the "Los Angeles Times", THE TIMES ENCYCLOPEDIA CLUB had an opportunity—the opportunity of a lifetime—to offer to readers and friends of this paper, at prices unprecedented in the publishing world, (in fact the price at which we are selling this lot, barely covers the cost of binding) a small number of slightly damaged sets of the well known NEW STANDARD ENCYCLOPEDIA AND ATLAS. Through clubs in connection with leading newspapers, this work has been widely sold from one end of the Pacific Coast to the other; and it needs no further recommendation to all thoughtful, ambitious men and women who have not yet added it to their library. The few slightly damaged sets which unforeseen conditions have enabled us to offer have suffered only on the outside; and even then, in the majority of cases, so little that the defects would never be noticed. The vital part of the volumes—all the text pages and handsome illustrations—has not been affected by fire or water. If you are thinking of getting for yourself or family or friends a set of this great work, this is a chance that you cannot duplicate again—AND you must act now or be disappointed. So large has been the demand by the public for the strictly limited number of sets that we could supply that we are obliged to announce the immediate closing without further notice of this great cut-price sale. The very minute the last of the damaged sets has been disposed of the special cut-price sale will be declared closed and a new club will be organized and the regular scale of prices will be resumed and henceforth strictly in force. Do not hesitate any longer. As soon as we receive your request for information in regard to the work, we shall reserve a set for you and hold it until you can definitely decide whether or not you wish to purchase. The rule, "First come, first served," will be strictly observed in every respect. The sale of THE NEW STANDARD ENCYCLOPEDIA AND ATLAS will continue—BUT this chance, once gone, will not come again.

A GREAT HOME REFERENCE WORK IN 12 VOLUMES

During its sale in connection with newspaper clubs along the entire Pacific Coast, THE NEW STANDARD ENCYCLOPEDIA AND ATLAS has been made generally familiar. It is a work preeminently intended for the busy man and for the home, and in it special emphasis has been laid upon convenience and readability. It is a valuable work for young folks for their own reading or for use in connection with their school studies, and has been highly recommended by educators east and west. We should be glad to show any one who is interested many commendations received from prominent persons and from others in all walks of life who have purchased this book for themselves or their family and have been delighted with it. In addition to particulars of our damaged-set offer, the coupon will bring you further details in regard to the character of the work—comprising 55,000 articles, covering some 8500 pages, embellished by 3000 illustrations, and equipped with 150 maps.

THE CLOSING COUPON

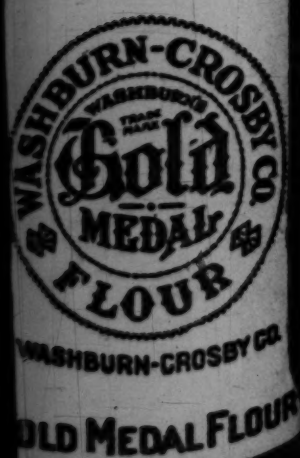

This may be the last time that this ad. will appear, and we suggest that you fill out the attached coupon plainly, giving us your full address, so that no mistake may be made or delay occur, and forward it to us by return mail. We shall answer the coupon promptly—first come, first served. This offer is extended only to responsible men and women. No children need apply.

Where else can you buy
so much service for $1850?

THE public has learned that it is not absolutely necessary to buy luxury-priced cars to get all the service they want.
The performance of the Chalmers "30," Fordor, $1850
in owners' hands has educated the public to this fact.

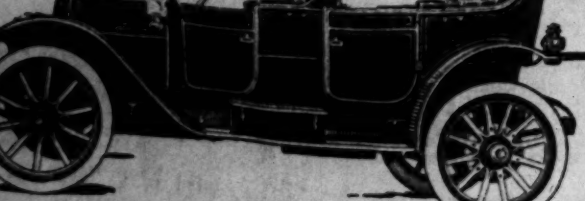

Chalmers

two, four or five passenger types,
will answer every requirement of speed, power and comfort that the average man could ask. The record of this car in winning the 1910
Golden Trophy over 2851 miles of all sorts of roads in competition with average owner could ask of it.

Upon the Chalmers "30" and "Forty" is staked the future of a great business organization. Every Chalmers Car sold today is helping the of other Chalmers Cars many years from today.

When you buy a Chalmers you buy a guarantee of performance and quality backed by an organization that is here to stay.

Will you favor us with an inspection of the 1911 models at your convenience.

kins in the Lozier is the consensus of opinion of scores of women drivers in this city. If the fair chauffeurs have their way, women judges, women timers and a woman referee will be in charge and a woman will manage the race.

There is little possibility that the Automobile Association of America will sanction the race, especially if the women take charge of the affair. In the event that the A.A.A. refuses, the amateur contest could be pulled off at Ascot Park or on an automobile speedway.

Hundreds of inquiries have been made as to when the race is to be held and where. The final details will be settled Saturday morning and the girls will then have a chance to sign the terms of racing contracts. The match is to be held Thursday.

Miss Beatrice d'Easling and her fast
Apperson roadster are due here Saturday morning. She is in racing form and in a dispatch to The Times last night offered to drive against Miss Ruth Bekins and the Lozier, Thursday morning a week from today.

Two motor maids at the wheels of two of the fastest automobiles in a race in which all world records made by women may be broken, will be a sensational never pulled off in the West.
Both of the girls are in training and both are willing and anxious to meet in a contest that will demand every ounce of nerve either possesses.

This morning the sanction of the Automobile Association will be asked for and there is a possibility that the race
may be held on the Santa Monica road race course. The proposition was sprung yesterday that the event be made a three-lap race, the girls starting from the grand stand site and finishing there after three circuits of the course. This would make a race of about twenty-five miles.

Another suggestion was that the race be a two-lap affair. This would mean the making of the four bad turns and the circuit of the course along the Palisades with cars wide open and a finish on Ocean boulevard, with an eighteen-mile contest.

There is a proposition that the race
be held on the Motorodrome, without admission, and that the contest be decided in best three in five heats. The girls are willing to race any distance
but the owners of the cars favor certain terms.

Leon T. Shettler, the Apperson agent,
has decided in favor of five-mile heats.
He thinks it would be a shame to ask a girl to drive fifty miles. He thinks the contest could easily be determined in heats of five miles and that best
two in three would be a fair deal.

Marion Bekins, the Lozier man, is not particular but he is willing to send the Lozier fifty miles and Miss Ruth,
his only daughter, is also willing. Her fast Lozier-racer is there with the goods when it is necessary to speed
and she will drive it at a mile-a-minute clip or even faster.

Miss d'Easling can also drive. She has handled Apperson cars, and it is claimed she has driven them at a speed of seventy miles an hour. She says she can drive the Apperson faster than a sixty-mile an hour clip.

Classy. PROFESSORS YANK CHEST WEIGHTS.

HIGH-BROW COLLEGE LIGHTS
AT WORK.

Physical Culture Has Become a Sudden Fad at the Universities.
The Professors Are to Be Seen in Scenty Attire in the Gymnasiums.
Space at Keyholes Is Selling High.

Dignified college professors, members of the faculty of the U. S. C., have laid aside their robes of learning and their haughty class room bearing and have donned the abbreviated tunics and the other accoutrements of a full fledged athlete. They have joined the ranks of the muscle developers at the Methodist school.

Every Monday and Thursday afternoon nine of these worthy scholars slip nervously into the varsity gymnasium
glancing carefully about as they approach the door so that none may know of the awful outrage they are about to commit.

Once inside they attire themselves in the scanty garments of a real demon athlete. Then behind locked doors and barred windows they begin to go through the same clumsy antics in the same clumsy fashion that the most insignificant of the class room youngsters perform. In fact one small boy from a local grammar school peeping through a keyhole in the door was heard to exclaim, "Aw I could show that guy up.
He can't even turn a somersault."

J. S. Robson, the new physical director at the U. S. C. gymnasium, is responsible for this scandalous and unseemly conduct on the part of the intellectuals. It was he who enticed them into dark recesses of the varsity gym
where twice each week they go through the graceful exercises of a full fledged gym course in the most ungraceful manner.

Every possible precaution was taken to keep the news of this new gym class from spreading about the campus. The word quickly got around, however, and key holes, cracks and other observation points were soon at a premium. One enterprising student endeavored to secure an option on the balcony space but nothing doing! The faculty is in control and so far all spectators have been

Ad Wolgast: Owen Moran--
to fight forty-five rounds. Let
'er go.

If Louis Blot's fond hopes materialize, that will be the opening announcement at his fight emporium to be built at Tia Juana.

Louis, who claims to have secured a fight license from the Mexican government, telegraphed last night to Tom Jones, manager of Ad Wolgast,
and Charley Harvey, manager
of Owen Moran, offering them a Fourth of July date--forty-five rounds.

He agrees to put up a purse
of $12,500 or to give the fighters 75 per cent. of the gross receipts.

GEESSE PLENTIFUL.

HEMET, March 18.--There are thousands of wild geese on the Pico Ranch

water are plentiful but the geese are hard to get on account of the open country. C. P. Visei of Hemet, H. P.

northern squad. Speaker may come to Los Angeles later in the season and play with the southern division. Carrigan and Karger are the only regulars in today's lineup. The others are youngsters.

Manager Dillon will use only two old men in his lineup, Daley and Howard,
besides the old pitchers and catchers.
Aiken will be given a try at third base. Rawlings will play shortstop and Deal will hold down the initial infield. Teck will pick 'em out of the sky in right field and Phillips will look after the left garden patch. Daley will play center and Howard second base.

Southern division manager, Bill Car-
rigan, will use Sox recruits in the game Riggert and Perry, the two promising outfielders will play left and center respectively. Janvrin, the eighteen-year-old third baseman will look after the third station. Hollie will play right for the Sox and Engle will play first.
The fight for first-base position between Engle and Bradley is keen one,
with honors even.

CHESS GAMES IN SPAIN.

Both Marshall and Capablanca Win
White Janowski and Tarrasch Play Draws.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
SAN SEBASTIAN (Spain) March 1.
—Adjourned games occupied the attention this afternoon of the chess masters in the international tournament.
Six of these games were disposed of,
resulting:

Marshall beat Teichmann; Capablanca beat Leonard; draws were played by Spielmann and Tarrasch, Rubinstein and Burn, Hanowski and Spielmann, Duras and Maroczy.

The adjourned games of Capablanca
and Janowski were not resumed today.
Capablanca still retains first position
with four games won and one lost.
Schlechter and Marshall are tied for second and third with four games won and two lost.

CHALLENGES WINNER.

Kid Dalton is trying hard to get a match with some of the topnotch light-weights and will challenge the winner of the Wolgast-Memisc battle March 17. Dalton has won a large number of fights since his last appearance here
a year or more ago and believes he is as good as any of them. McCarey, however, seems to remember him as he was and does not want the money. Kid Dalton thinks he is worth. However, it is likely they will be able to get on a match before long.

Los Angeles and Vernon clubs have spared no expense in making Washington Park the finest in the West
when the fans see it they will hardly recognize it as the home of the old Chutes field and rickety grandstands and bleachers.

A baseball parade will be held this afternoon, starting from the City Hall at 1 o'clock. Baseball managers, press correspondents and players from the Red Sox and Angels squads will make their way to the ball park in automobiles. A brass band will head the parade.

Capt. Dillon and his Angel band of players are confident of giving the Red Sox Speed Boys a sizzling game. The Red Sox have had several more days practice than the Angels but several of the local boys have played this winter in Southern California nipes
and are in fairly good shape.

Bill Tozer and "Flame" Delhi will shoot 'em down the narrow patch for the Angels, while Eddie Karger will occupy the mound for the Red Sox.
Tozer's slugging wing is in excellent condition, as he was the first Angel swirl to start spring training. Delhi's pepping whip is in good shape, as he pitched several games for the Santa Monica team during the winter months.

McHale and Busick may twirl part of the game for the Donovantes. Fred Abbott, the new Angel backstop from Chicago, will wear the padded mitt and chest protector during the greater part of the game. "Pinkie" Grindle may handle the receiving end for two or three innings. The locals, Bill Carrigan, the star Boston catcher, and Nunamaker will be behind the timber
for the Sox.

This Speaker, the famous Sox fielding and slugger, will not play in today's game as he left last night.

Memorial Day.

TO OPEN HOME WITH TOURNEY

New Country Clubhouse
Ready for Occupancy.

Golf and Tennis Matches to Be Outdoor Features.

Big Plans for Spring Game
at Country Club.

BY WILLIAM FREDERICKSON.

Next Saturday afternoon Los Angeles and San Gabriel Country Club teams will meet on the local links in the second game of the series of inter-club matches.

On Friday and Saturday, March 17 and 18, Riverside and Redlands will play on the Los Angeles grounds. April 1 and 2 Los Angeles will go to Redlands and Riverside for their final matches
of the season.

The Los Angeles Country Club will open its new clubhouse and grounds formally on Memorial Day, May 29; a time that the handsome structure will be completed and furnished. There will be a grand opening dinner and ball
for the evening and golf and tennis tournaments during the day, and for several days following.

It is planned to make this opening affair the most brilliant of its kind ever given in this section. The immense building, its ball-room and dining-room, will accommodate many hundreds and all Los Angeles society is arranging to be there.

The links, then expected to be in good condition for play will be used
all day for guests of course, ever description. Cups have been given by J. F. Sartori and others and President Frank Griffith has hung up the trophy to be played for under the usual president's cup rules. These are for the men. But the women golfers are to be provided for also with events
and trophies.

Four tennis courts, the finest that can be made, with unrestricted ex-posure, will be kept busy all day with contests among lovers of the racquet game, according to plans of tennis members. Taken all in all the one quiet hills near Beverly will witness the most active and interesting day
and night of sports and entertainment
of the spring.

Some time before May 30, the general opening of the club, management has arranged to open the golf links with a two days' tournament in which all golfers, from far and near, will be invited to participate. This will be about April 15. It is now the plan of the club to move into the new place April 1, when the old grounds are to be vacated. But the clubhouse cannot links cannot be completed at that time
although sufficient to enable golfers to make use of the links and have some accommodations for the locker-room, buffet, and bathrooms. On April 1 and thereafter, work will have gone
on enough along to permit of holding the inaugural open tournament for amateurs.

This first big event, the real dedication of the new course, will be 72 holes medal play, 36 one-day to 36 on the following links. Prize will be given for scratch and handicap play. The club will furnish trophies and the Southern California Golf Association will provide two cups or prizes to be played for in the event. In the scratch event there should be a fine contest for first honors if all players that are expected
should be here to play.

At that time it is hoped to have present a number of crack golfers from San Francisco and around the bay. Among these are Vincent Whitney, champion amateur; Dr. D. P. Fredericks and Jack Neville of Claremont; Douglas Grant and C. E. Maud of Burlingame; Campbell Whyte, J. W. Byne of Inglewood and others. These together with Hug
R. Johnstone, E. R. Williams, E. J.
Armstrong, E. N. Wright and other good men of Annapolis, experts from San Gabriel, Riverside, Redlands and San Diego and Southern California Champion Norman Macbeth and the entire local field of golfers would make a list of entries such as seldom if ever has been seen on the Pacific coast. The chief honor to be fought for in this event would be low medal score for the two days' play. Who will win it? This a question hard to answer, but Hug Johnstone, twice medalist in Southern California championship tournaments, is has vowed and taken a hundred oath

FIRST AIR BUS LINE TO START FROM PASADENA

PASSENGER-CARRYING aero-plane service, the newest feature of aviation and a step in advance
of any previous record, is to be established by Charles Walsh with his Curtis-Farman model biplane within a few days, between Hotel Raymond, Pasadena, and a hangar which is to be built near Sierra Vista five miles away.

Walsh has been making successful flights at Dominguez Field for the last three weeks. He has carried passengers on numerous occasions and once made a half mile flight with his wife and two children.

H. M. McGrath, representing Aviator Walsh, has practically completed arrangements with Walter Raymond,
manager of the hotel, for a regular service with a passenger schedule, special accommodations for ladies and every modern convenience. Within a few days, if all goes well, the swift sailing
air-craft will be seen playing daily over the fields and villages from the Raymond to the camp.

The first passenger on the initial trip of this epoch-making step in the progress of aviation is to be a prominent Pasadena society lady. Her name has not been disclosed but Walter Raymond has picked one of the terfly Route" aeroplane service with trip among the clouds.

With the fact once started, Walsh says they will have to put on a "four curtis" service as everybody will be taking the "Butterfly" trip.

The aviator intends to make the flight from Dominguez to the new hangar as soon as it is finished. This is a longer cross country trip than he has made as yet but he is confident that he will be able to sail over to his new quarters.

Harry Harkness, the millionaire aviator who has three Antoinette mono-planes at San Diego where he was out-flying during the recent meet, has been to Dominguez the other day. He became so impressed with the success which has attended Walsh and his Southern California-made machine that he immediately arranged to have one built for himself.

Frank and Warren Eaton have taken the contract to make up the mak-chine, which is to be made by Walsh
after his own Curtis-Farman model within fifteen days. This is a new record for aeroplane construction but the Eaton brothers claim they can make good on the contract.

It is to be equipped with one of the most powerful engines.

BREEN HAS BRIGHT EYES.

No Reason Why Trip Is to Hurt Red Sox.

Believes His Team's to Win Pennant.

Weak Spot Seems to Be in Pitcher's Box.

BY HUGH MCBREEN.

It is no reason why the Red Sox should not be in excellent condition when they reach Boston, April 1, for the annual Harvard-Red Sox game, the day before we open the American League season with the Yankees. While I handle the financial part of the Boston club I am pretty familiar with the great American pastime and acted as scout for the Boston club for some time.

I made the trip to California three years ago looking for likely material. The Red Sox outfield is certainly the best in the country, as formed at present. Two new men, Ebbetts and Perry, will strengthen it still more. The infield in spite of the absence of Jake Stahl, looks good to me. I consider Ebbetts a good first baseman and Perry a good second baseman. The pitcher's box, however, is a weak spot.

Bradley, a good first baseman and Perry, a good second baseman. The pitcher's box, however, is a weak spot.

Capt. Dillon of the Los Angeles team was short a possible first baseman yesterday in Conley from the Imperial Valley. This one applied for a chance to show himself and Dillon sent him a contract. Last Saturday he came to town and told Dillon that he believed he had signed with the Boston Red Sox. Dillon has not seen the fellow since. Some weeks ago, Dillon wrote to Secretary Farrell of the commission in regard to the case, but has heard nothing from Farrell.

Catcher Hughey Smith is still holding out for more money and has not shown up for practice. No one seems to be shedding any tears and particularly not Dillon, who declares he does not care if Smith stays away.

An eastern paper says there was little interest in New York over the National League meeting. Some one evidently forgot to lay in a supply of booze.

John Gansel of the Rochester team believes that Ote Johnson of the New York Highlanders will make good in the big league. The Coast League has sent few more promising players to the big league and if he falls down there is small chance for some of the others to stand up.

The leading citizens of Hannibal, Mo., have subscribed $200 and this assures Jake Beckley a job as manager this season, for it will put the team in the Central Association. Jake used to get that much himself every year.

If Bill Carrington feels relieved at signing a Red Sox contract, you want to remember that that feeling goes double. Mr. Taylor also having the same sensation.

Very funny that about a million baseball fans in Boston never realize what a grand ball player Jake Stahl was until he quit the team. This really proves that a lot of us have got to die to become famous. If Jake had just kept out of that bank, no one would have heard anything about him.

The Boston Club of the New England League has purchased Third Baseman Boardman from Sacramento. Thursday night, the Red Sox will be entertained at the Redondo plunge with a water polo game between Redondo and Venice, and an exhibition speed swim by Frank Holbrook, the Coast champ.

Capt. Dillon will watch the game today from the bench. He wants to get a line on the young Angels in a real baseball game.

Fred Abbott certainly handles the willow like a big leaguer and the way he lifted 'em out in batting practice yesterday was a caution.

"Pinkey" Grindle has a sore arm, but he will catch in today's game just the same. Doc Finley is looking after the whip and says it will be all right in a few days. Several of the other players complain of sore muscles.

Johnny Rawlins handles himself well in the field and swings the big stick like a regular star.

Nearly all of the chairs have been placed in position at the new park. Twenty-seven hundred chairs will be installed. The grand stand and bleachers will seat 8000 fans comfortably.

Treasurer McBrean of the Red Sox will leave for San Francisco on the Owl tonight. He will return in several days.

Through the enterprise of Manager E. A. Johnson, the University of Southern California Law School team, local college fans will have the opportunity of seeing the baseball team of the Washington University of Japan play the great American game. The dates for the series have not been arranged as yet, but Manager Ingalls has been assured of the games by the Japs' advance agent.

The Japs have arranged a series of games both with Berkeley and Stanford, and negotiations are at present on with several of the larger eastern university teams. It is likely that the Orientals will appear here immediately after their northern series.

The Jap collegians are the fastest in their island country and the mettle of the local boys will be taxed to the limit. It is said their twirler Odishi, has a delivery that has Ed Walsh's spit-ball distanced in many ways. It will be their first appearance on a local diamond.

As a nucleus for their team this year, the University of Southern California Law School has four former college stars. The quartette is thoroughly seasoned in every angle of the game, and their pre-season strength shown by the team in its pre-season struggles is accredited to them.

The men are John A. Nelson, R. A. Maddock, F. S. Foss and C. E. Millikin. Nelson is a twirler, and was formerly a star performer for Georgetown University. Maddock, was on the scouting staff for the University of California for two years prior to 1909. Foss was a fixture on both the football and baseball varieties of Wisconsin for two years, while Millikin, the last of the quartette, earned his baseball "O" with Ohio State University.

This is Nelson's first year as mound artist for the law school, but the way that he has painted holes about opposing batters shows that he has maintained the rare form of his college days. Millikin and Foss played the law team last year, and are showing up stronger with every game. Millikin batted for 300 last season, and was error in opposing pitchers. Foss covers the middle sack for the Blackstonians, while Millikin plays center field.

The embryo lawyers are booked to play all the big universities and prep schools of the Pacific Coast. The team is captained by James Miller, who plays second. The balance of the team consists of Foss, first; Millikin, left field; Critchley, right; McDowell, center; Maddock, catcher; Nelson, pitcher; Decker, first; Martin, third, and Trude, utility man.

The following is the law school's schedule for the ensuing season, Santa Ana High school, U. S. C. Labien, Santa Occidental, Pomona, Berkeley, St. Mary's College, Stanford, Santa Clara College, and Whittier.

Some pitchers go to the mound once too often.—Bill Tozer.

All the Angels appear to have good wings.—Cap Dillon.

I have had a technical education in baseball.—Teck.

A grass diamond is worth more than some pencils.—Hen Berry.

The idea of March are with us.—Eddie Maier.

I love my stack of wheat, but oh, you Grindle.—Cap Dillon.

The war is on over there is a North and South division.—Happy Hogan.

I expect to be on the job daily.—F. S. Foss.

No, faithful reader, I never ran for President.—Judge Parker.

We may live without poetry, music and art, but not without baseball.—Luisy Boston.

Boston has b-e-a-n a good town, but oh, you Redondo.—Red Sox Players.

A real fanning bee has no stings.—Messen Day.

Here's to the many-colored, leather-lunged, sunshiny, spring-betokening baseball bee, may his fan never grow less.—The Players.

The orange is a fine animal, but oh, you brown bread and baked b-o-a-n-s.—Treasurer Hugh McBrean.

I have no fear of my muscles ache.—Alken.

We go, but we shall return.—Patsy Donovan.

We like our Hot Springs, but oh, you Redondo plunge.—Red Soxers.

Dexter Dorgan, formerly Hubert Clark, has been employed by Harry Harkness to take charge of his machines and he expects to ship them East as soon as the new biplane is completed.

St. Louis, March 1.—Manager Wallace and members of the St. Louis American League team departed for their training camp at Hot Springs, Ark., at 9 o'clock tonight. Secretary Rickart probably accompanied the players.

TWO FRENCH ENTRIES. NEW YORK, March 1.—The Aero Club of America has received two French entries for the international balloon race which will be held in this country next fall. The German entries have already been filed and approved, but Switzerland, Italy and England remain to be heard from.

NO FIGHTS POSSIBLE. Legislature in Washington Kills Bill to Legalize Bouts With Large Round Pillows. (Associated Press Night Report.) OLYMPIA (Wash.) March 1.—Action on the Tommy Burns prize fight bill to legalize ten-round fights, with temporary gloves, before incorporated clubs, no decision to be given, was indefinitely postponed by the Senate today, twenty-two to nineteen. The bill is now dead.

It had passed the House by a scant majority. The bill was introduced at the instance of Tommy Burns, the former champion heavyweight pugilist, who took charge of the lobbying for the measure, and the outlook for its passage was excellent until the women's club brought their influence to bear in the Senate. RACERS TO ENGLAND.

S. C. Hildreth Says He Will Ship His Valuable Racing Stable to Europe Unless Good Purse Offered Here

"Unless I obtain some assurance that the racing on the local tracks will be as good as the big stable I have here, I will ship my string of racers to England. It would not pay me to keep my horses here unless they were offered the chance to compete for valuable purses. To do so without the assurance of a big purse is like tying up of the large sum of money which I have invested in them. So spoke S. C. Hildreth, the leading winning owner of race horses on the American coast, when he was asked if he would ship his most valuable stable of race horses to this country today. In his stable are Fitzbert, the champion rectorhorse of the American coast, Navy, the Futurity winner of last season. Besides these two he has twenty-seven racers, nine of which are two-year-olds. A string of horses of this caliber would not even in these days be deflated values in horsecraft. All of these will go abroad unless Hildreth can obtain some assurance of the value of the American turf.

There is more doing on automobile row this week than ever before. The dealers are talking about the race it's great, one of the biggest ever, and it could be possible to get at least six entries.

Bill Nevill sold another Fiat yesterday. Irvin W. Hellman purchased the big gunboat and the deal was closed in less than thirty minutes.

Norman W. Church is doing about the best business in the city. He is in good at the Stoddard-Dayton headquarters and the Baker electric are also selling.

Two women in a motor car race is in the air. That has never been pulled off in the West. This time it is so near a reality that the motorists are taking hold in earnest.

ward, the crack U.S.C. prep and high jumper, has been named as the varsity captain of the football team at Stanford on Saturday. The defender is an intercollegiate stand-out. The High School rules prohibit prep athletes from representing their university. Earl, the prep broad jumper, was entirely unequal to two years ago because of the college team against whom he was busy between showers to get the Manual Arts cinder track in shape for the interschool meet on Saturday. The track and field were completed three weeks ago, but all the work in the southwest of the city seems to accumulate at the Vermont school campus, so that the work has been very slow. Rice says they are going to the best field in the city when once they get it fixed up.

At the approach of the Stanford track meet, Pete Richardson, Methodist pole vaulter, is getting the job of coach. He is looking for training jumpers, the full length of the track and field, and one of his mates, who told him he was practicing up to beat Bellah, who is expected to get nervous a week before the big meet, and a sure sign he is going to make the record.

West Smithson, after vainly endeavoring to find some one to coach, says he would run his race track at last given up in air and turned to the thrilling sport of hockey. He is back on Pat Higgins' team again, and is playing eleven. Smithson played on the star aggregation in the East and Canada.

Richardson, the Occidental two-miler, won first place against U.S.C. on four miles to his Eagle, but by a very narrow margin. He is back over in the Occidental Park. He has become accustomed to a scantily clad, blonde-haired, blue work clothes, and a long distance event.

Dick, the assistant athletic coach at U.S.C., has a "sheet" reads U.S.C. on Stanford Saturday's meet. Sam always was a good athlete, and some of the more very highly, Sam says that he is going to get some action in politics at the recent student election at Manual Arts High School. The football team had ball players declare were n.g., as compared with their ticket. The varsity team started to do politics for a suffragette ballot, but were finally induced to take sides with the football team, who then won.

Harry Trotter appeared on the campus at U.S.C. yesterday just in time to save the track team out of the trouble of electing a new track captain. Harry had been given up as lost so far as the cinder squad was concerned, and his appearance in the halls with a registration card in his pocket was a general rejoicing. Trotter will be eligible for the Stanford and Conference meets and possibly the Pomona event although he has not yet had his registration was filed in time for this.

Winfred Metcalf at the Pomona College is the "and" of the season in the weight events. Coach Stanton has been working Winnie for two years so no apparent change until the last two weeks when he took up and pushed Barnes close for the hammer throw. With Metcalf in his present form the Sagebrushers are expecting to take the first and second places in the hammer against U.S.C.

BY FRED ABBOTT.

New Catcher for the Los Angeles Baseball Team.

IT'S all a matter of opinion, but I really think that a catcher has a harder time of it than the pitcher. In other words, a catcher's job is the most important on the team. Of course I am a catcher and naturally look at the question from a different angle than a pitcher and the other players.

The catcher must not only catch the balls, but he must study the batsmen, watch the bases, keep the pitcher steady and run the risk of serious injury. About all the pitcher has to do is to toss up the ball. Of course that isn't any cinch to do in the big leagues, but it is a cinch for a catcher to catch the signal for every ball. The catcher gives the signal, although a few pitchers give their signals in order to fool the opposing coaches.

You hear pitchers say now and then that they have to keep in fine physical condition and that their mental work is harder than any other player on the nine. That isn't true in my opinion. A catcher must keep in just as good physical condition as any other player. It comes down to hard and laborious work. The catcher certainly has the hardest end of it. It is a frightful strain to stand up in an awkward position for nine innings or more. You have to handle short cannon-balls into your mitt.

Without a good pegging arm a catcher is absolutely valueless in my opinion. Some catchers are used to ball down a mile a minute to catch a runner. That is foolishness and not at all necessary. A catcher should see the ball coming and catch it before it gets there. That is the secret of nailing danger-base stealers. I never shoot 'em hard nor fast, but get the ball away in a twinkling.

I spent many days trying to improve my getaway ball. I use a short, snappy, wrist motion when I throw to base.

I started baseball playing in a small town in Ohio when I was a kid. I wanted to be a big league ball player and somehow or other took to catching. I was big and strong and liked to pick 'em off behind the timber even when a youngster.

When I was 12 I got to town one day and piped me off to New Orleans. I was caught on the Pelican team when I was eighteen years old. I went to Cleveland and then to Philadelphia. From Philly I was sold to Toledo where I caught for five years.

I have been trying to get out in this beautiful country for two or three years. I was sold to the Yankees but I been here since last Friday. If all goes well I will make my home here permanently.

I hear that Mr. Berry and Captain Doolittle fine fellows to work for and that makes a big hit with me. I don't see why the Angels shouldn't make a good fight for the pennant. I know from Philly I do my best to help win it for them.

FOOTBALL IN FRANCE.

Game Is Said to Be Making Remarkable Progress and French Rugby Will Be Inevitable.

The French football players are making wonderful progress. When one considers the results of the three last international matches played by France and the steady advance by "aristocratic" players, it is not hard to see the feat to be a narrower defeat and thence to win, which these results show, the conclusion that French Rugby has improved is irresistible, though there is some danger of the advance being exaggerated. The facts shown and misstated as to its character.

French play has really improved, though by improvement it is only decided in the sense that the last month the defense of the French backs showed the advance in evidence against England and Ireland last year. The French backs showed a new places and tackled well, while all were ready, but notably Lane, to seize the chance of converting defense into attack. The French backs showed a coolness and quickness of perception which was due to be conspicuous by their absence.

Emergency Service Is Planned for County.

Uniform Charges to Be the Hospital Ambulance to Care for the Injured.

With a view to lessening the hardships and expense experienced by automobilists, the Automobile Emergency Service Company has been incorporated in Los Angeles and the plan is now in full operation. The company provides an emergency service, which includes towing, delivery of supplies, machinist work for its subscribers day and night for which a nominal fee is to be charged by the year. To furnish this service, the company has established a complete network of "official stations" throughout Southern California at intervals of a few miles. The autist is thus at all times within a few miles of immediate aid when his automobile becomes disabled. The Automobile Emergency Service Company, is something entirely new in the history of the automobile industry. The plan grew out of numerous complaints of alleged overcharges on the part of garage proprietors when automobiles become stalled on the road and were obliged to be towed. Under the comprehensive plan of the new company, subscribers are towed to the nearest official station upon request, free of charge, where their automobiles become mechanically disabled. In case supplies are desired, they are delivered to the subscribers from the nearest official station at the regular price charged at the garages. Such service is free to within a radius of five miles from the official stations. For service covering a greater distance than this, a uniform charge is made. The stations are so placed that in the all traveled districts machines at no time are beyond range of immediate aid upon the free service of the company. Automobile dealers and owners generally have endorsed the plan of the Automobile Emergency Service Company, and are boosting it. If the owners are at the same time relieved of the responsibility of keeping close watch upon their cars. A novel feature of the new company's plan is the emergency ambulance service furnished in case of automobile accidents. The company's agents immediately deliver the injured give him that quality commonly known as "wind" making his endurance phenomenal. Hackenschmidt's muscles are developed more after the fashion of broad, flat tapes. This has been due not so much to his innumerable matches as to his methods of training. This is a point that will be explained a little later.

GOTCH BUILT DIFFERENTLY.

"It will be noted that Gotch is developed along distinctly different lines. The champion has round muscles, and his hips and thighs are a great deal stockier than those of Hack. Gotch is a remarkably hard breather, and on the mat does not show the same signs of endurance that are noted in the foreigner. Nevertheless, the champion has demonstrated that his breathing is not due to exhaustion, but that his organs of respiration are a great deal different from those of the Russian Lion.

"Hackenschmidt depends more largely on quick moves and sudden jerks, taking spritzes with the object of catching his man off his balance and upsetting him. On the other hand, Gotch invariably bulls his man around the ring knocking him to his methods of training. This is a point that will be explained a little later.

GOTCH HAS NOTHING ON HACK.

"Hackenschmidt has wrestled as many catch-as-catch-can matches as Gotch. The mere fact that he has staged a great many of his operations in London by no means indicates that he is Greco-Roman in style. The truth of the matter is, the English audiences demand catch-as-catch-can almost as much as do the American fans.

"Gotch's training embodies wrestling, handball and road work, almost to the exclusion of everything else. Hackenschmidt does practically no running, but he believes in walking taking a four-mile clip and holding it for several hours. He contends that this helps the wind a great deal more than running, because he indulges in this walking exercise every day in the year, while in the ordinary road work the wrestler will perhaps stick to the daily runs for two or three weeks and then pass them up for as many months. Hack also does a great deal of work with weights and other gymnasium apparatus.

EXERCISES WITH CHAIRS.

"He will take a turn at the rings, at the horizontal bars, at the horse and practically everything else that constitutes the modern equipment. One of Hack's favorite forms of exercise is to place two chairs back to back, about four feet apart. He will then walk across the room rapidly, pausing before the chairs and taking a standing jump over them. The height is about forty inches and the length of the jump about five feet. He will do this thirty or forty times in succession.

"In his daily workout, he usually takes on three or four good tough men, and puts in half an hour to an hour on the mat.

"Perhaps the foremost question in the minds of grappling enthusiasts throughout the country is the probability of another meeting between George Hackenschmidt and Frank Gotch. The most notable feature of the situation is that neither man has much to say about it."

SCHOOLBOYS TO COMPETE ON LIGHT LUNCHEONS.

Physical Director Rice Arranges
Daily Meet for Both Boys and Girls.
Says Exercise and Eating Do Not Interfere With Each Other—All
Students to Enter.

Noonday track meets, which are to be pulled off every other day during the luncheon hour, are the newest feature of athletics at the Manual Arts High School. The plan, which was originated by G. A. Rice, physical director of the new high school, is largely experimental, but will be adopted and given a trial in a few days. Those in charge of the physical de-shorter distances, hurdlings, jumping, vaulting and throwing weights, will be used. At present, the entries are only open to the boys, but it is likely that meets of a less strenuous nature will be conducted for the girls at a later period.

Efforts are being made to get every student in the High School to sign up for the noonday exercises. The contests will be in the form of inter-class affairs. The general tendency in all the school athletics in the city schools, at the present time, is to get as many of the pupils into outdoor games, as possible, and this plan is expected to prove successful from this point of view.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new track at the Manual Arts school. An interclass meet, which will give the coaches a line on the strength of the track material, is to be pulled off, as soon as the field is surveyed and smoothed down. Coach Rice states that if the showing is at all favorable, meets will be arranged with Polytechnic and the other city high schools.

SCHOOL BOY SHARP SHOOTER MAKES NEW NATIONAL RECORD

ERNEST WILLIAMS, a 15-year-old sharpshooter at the Harvard School, established a new national record for schoolboys yesterday, when he shot a score of 191 out of a possible 200. He made 99 out of 100 prone and 92 in 100 standing.

This score is the best that has ever been recorded in any junior contest. Two shooters at Harvard School last year made 190 and this mark has been equaled in the East, but Williams was one better with a score that is phenomenal. The Springfield 22 rifle is used by the local cadets.

The record was made in a practice contest against the University Preparatory School at Tonkawa, Okla. These practice shoots, as well as the regular league contests, are carried on by mail with government officials in each place to verify the marks made.

The ten-day train shot 115 out of 200 during the afternoon. The score at the competing school will not be received for a week or more.

These practice shoots, as well as the regular league contests, are carried on by mail with government officials in each place to verify the marks made. The ten-day train shot 115 out of 200 during the afternoon. The score at the competing school will not be received for a week or more.

Against Culver they made the highest score recorded on the local gallery during the league series. Five best men shot 909, the remaining marks not being counted. Against Central High School they scored 883. The boys figured that 885 would win and unless their opponents made an unusual score, there is no doubt but that the local boys pulled the victory.

Deering High School at Portland, Maine, is scheduled for next Monday. The records after each meet have to be mailed to one of the officials in the War Department at Washington, who officially passes upon them and publishes the result.

The individual records made in the Central High School meet:

RESTLING EXPERT DESCRIBES THEIR BUILD.

Hackenschmidt's Muscles Are Formed Like Long Strong Tapes
and He Has the Appearance of a Human Wedge—Gotch, the Champion, Has a More Massive Build.

Lloyd K. Jones, a well-known wrestling expert, gives a comparative estimate of George Hackenschmidt and Frank Gotch. He sizes the men up as follows:

DEVELOPMENT IS ABNORMAL.

"When Hack steps out on the mat in ring and discards his bathrobe one of the first things the fans will notice is the almost abnormal development around the big fellow's neck and shoulders. There are great pads of muscle extending along the back and sides of Hackenschmidt's neck that tend to give his shoulders a sloping appearance. This development is distributed throughout his back and is supplemented by an almost freakish development under his arms. The girth encasement of Hackenschmidt is a vast deal more than appearances would indicate—but the contrast with the mammoth shoulders gives him that perking build that makes him a veritable human wedge. CURED IN FIVE DAYS

Hernia, Piles, Fistula and Varicose Veins

Many Cases Cured Permanently in One Treatment. Most Time-Saving. Most Natural. Most Safe. No Detention from Business. Family or Home. A Radical and Permanent Cure. I will give $500 to any man who can show me a single case of a hernia, piles, fistula or varicose veins that has not been cured by my treatment. Every statement in this advertisement is true.

I cure rapidly, painlessly and at small expense. Cured Patients are My Testimony. I am successful in bringing to the curative power of Nature's forces in the treatment of these diseases. I will give you a physical examination; if necessary, a microscopic and chemical analysis of secretions to determine existing pathological and bacteriological conditions. Every person should take advantage of this opportunity to learn their true condition. Certainty of cure is what you want.

CLIENT LINE SENDS TRAIN EAST IN PLUS FOUR DAYS.

Brings Pacific Coast Five Hundred Miles Closer to Missouri Valley, and Practically Another Transcontinental System for California. Figures as Independent Road.

The completion of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient Railroad will practically give California another transcontinental line," said E. H. Shafter, the manager, at the Hotel Alexander last night. "The line of the Orient from Kansas City to the Pacific Coast Topolomampo, brings the Pacific Coast 500 miles closer to the Missouri Valley than any other system. With a direct line to water competition, and by means of water transportation with Los Angeles and other Pacific Coast ports, the Orient will be in a position to figure as a differential line in transportation of freight, with lower rates to the shipper.

The Orient is now in operation in the United States between Wichita, Kan., and San Angelo, and the construction of the line to the Mexican border is being pushed. A considerable portion of the road in Mexico has been built and is in operation. Last week we made an experiment to test its capacity to handle California products to the East. The Orient and connecting lines carried a special train of angles from Colton to Kansas City in four days and twenty hours, against an average time on other lines of six days.

The shipment traveled, over the southern Pacific to El Paso, Texas and thence to Sweetwater, Orient from Sweetwater to Wichita, and from Wichita to Kansas City on the Missouri Pacific. It was carried from Kansas City to Buffalo over the Wash Railroad in record time, the train taking the whole movement from Colton to Buffalo in seven and one-half days. The train was carried from Sweetwater to Wichita, a distance of 12 miles, in eighteen hours, and from Wichita to Kansas City, 227 miles, in 10 and one-half hours.

We expect to complete the Orient from Kansas City to its terminus on the Pacific Coast within a year. Then we expect to figure as an independent line in the handling of transcontinental traffic.

A following, combined with the Traffic Association yesterday.

Primarily the luncheon was in honor of T. A. Graham, who has just vacated the position of assistant freight and passenger agent of the Southern Pacific at Los Angeles to become general freight agent of the company at San Francisco.

E. S. Blair, president of the Traffic Association, presented Mr. Graham with a loving cup in behalf of the organization. In responding, Mr. Graham talked of the rapid expansion of Los Angeles as a traffic center, and pledged his continued loyalty to the interests of the city.

H. V. Platt, general superintendent of the southern district of the Southern Pacific, expressed his appreciation, as an operating official, of the services rendered by Mr. Graham during his stay here and joined in welcoming John C. Stubbs and Frank E. Batture, who are to be stationed here. F. M. Byron of the New York Central lines expressed the sentiment of the members of the association in parting with Mr. Graham, and also extended the glad hand to the new officials.

Lovett in the North.

R. S. Lovett, president of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Railroads, reached San Francisco yesterday afternoon in the course of his official tour of inspection of the system. The announcement was made there that he would make a visit to the city on the Bay City and proceed East by way of Portland and Ogden. On the way from Santa Barbara to San Francisco, a stop of several hours was made in San Jose, where a committee of forty residents met the party. An automobile ride was taken about the city, after which the party attended a reception at the Vendome Hotel.

Opens New Ticket Office.

Traffic Manager T. B. McGovern announced yesterday the opening of a city ticket office for the Pacific Navigation Company at San Diego. It will be located in the U. S. Grant Hotel building and occupied by the newly appointed city ticket agent, E. L. Hall, and F. J. Durand, freight and passenger agent.

Yesterday "The Arcadians" were booked for the initial trip of the Yale to San Diego. The first trip will be Saturday, when the Yale will be taxed to capacity. The Chamber of Commerce is making special preparations to welcome the boat on its arrival. The Long Beach band, which accompanied the commodore, will give a concert in the lobby of the Grant Hotel in San Diego, Saturday night.

May Have Utah Exhibit.

Douglas White, industrial agent of the Salt Lake Railroad, has gone to Nevada to interest the Governor of that State in an exhibit for the fair to land show here. It was Mr. White who worked up a big exhibit from Utah, and promises of the attendance of the Governor of Utah and his official staff at the show on Utah Day, with his official family.
